Vol. 17, No. 10

Newspaper of the A.N.U.

Price: One Shilling Thursday, August 5, 1965

Bush Week this year seemed to have more activity than any past ones. It was a week that was fortunately not marred by any bad behaviour on the part of students and the number of arrests was low for such a week. This week showed the ingenuity of students and the general goodwill of the people of Canberra towards the students, although they were perhaps a little tight towards the charities that Bush Week was collecting for.

BUSH WEEK HOLIDAY

Whatever happened tothe public holiday that the Administration was going to give us on Bush Week Friday in return for cutting the length of Bush Week. We certainly did not get it this year.

A public holiday enable more people to take part in the Bush Week celebrations instead of being compelled by conscience to attend lectures and tutorials. It can never be a true Bush Week without the entire Uni versity taking part.

As it is, there are too fev people taking part in the ac tivities. Most of the best stunts and the main parts of the programme are left to the same few individuals.

It is amazing how difficult it is to find people to carry out one of the less spectacular facets of the activities like selling the Bush Week special paper.

This is not a reflection on those who do volunteer to sell, but there are wide fields out in the suburbs for selling that are not fully ex ploited.

A public holiday for students would enable Bush Week organisers to find more helpers which would in-crease the amount of money collected for charity.

It would also increase the profits made by the publican at Bungendore and generally impress the public that there are great deal more "reckless university students' than at first expected.

Bush Week yielded well over £800 for our two charities, which is more than the amount raised last year. Although this amount may not appear great, it is certainly much appreciated by the two charities and is all the more impressive in that it came mainly from the sale of newspapers, over 8,000 of which were sold.

The stunts that appeared this year were both brilliant and ingenious. The removal of the sign from the Police Station proved just what can be done in this respect and the police took the joke very well.

Bush Week Director, Toss Gascoigne, said that the attitude of, and the help of the police was much appreciated, especially over the Prosh, Bungendore and the sign.

The removal of the Dobells from the War Memorial has certainly fulfilled the purpose of any stunt in drawing attention to the inadequate precautions used in the Memorial.

The Prosh once again exemplified that students are as critical and as observant as most of the community. The standard of floats was high and although it drew attention to Bush Week, did not greatly affect the collection for charity at the time.

Obviously there was some confusion in the public's mind as to the purpose of Bush Week and despite the wide publicity given to Bush Week, many people appeared unaware of its existence.

Many confused sellers of the SUNDRY HORROR with WHISPER sellers and refused to have anything to do with the paper. However, the confusion cut both ways. Others were not convinced that the money was for charity. There is an obvious need for some local charity to be represented in the Bush Week charities, for cries of "Help the Crippled Children" bring greater response than "Help the New Guinea Students' Union Building Fund."

The question of a Bush Week holiday has been raised elsewhere, another question raised is the advisability of having Bush Week so near the end of term. It is now an established custom, but the end of term brings also tain students from taking part in Bush Week activities. Perhaps a mid-term Bush Week would be more effective. essays and extra work and this excludes cer-

Bush Ball Belle and Friend Prof. Manning Clark congratulates Belle McCasker

Swedan plans peace institute

STOCKHOLM (AS) Sweden is planning to estahlish an international research institute in Stockholm to examine causes of political conflict and ways of settling them.

The institute on a fiveyear experimental basis will gather together scientists, scholars and diplomats of recognised reputation for objectivity to work for it.

Mrs. Alva Myrdal, Sweden's top disarmament ne-gotiator who is in charge of preliminary planning for the institute, said in an interview last week that the institute could play a key role in promoting disarmament efforts.

It could, for example, serve as a focal point of a worldwide monitoring system, checking on clandes-tine underground nuclear tests.

She said data would be welcomed from countries of all political groups.

The Swedish Government would provide financial independence for the institute in a manner to keep it free of any pressure or influence.

Internationa

In a recent circular letter sent to various Commonwealth ministers and the Premiers and Education Ministers of all states, the Education Vice-President of NUAUS, Peter Sellers, asked the various cabinets to consider proposals for the establishment of an International Teachers' College in Canberra. This is a matter that would involve the Commonwealth Government in organising the College and the various states in administering it. The proposed College straight to the developing another 300 in the field. would be established in Can countries and serve a three The cost is not great wherea by the Commonwealth year term with the first year being spent in Papua - New part of its foreign-aid spend-after the building of the Col-

Guinea.

Government.

from Australia, Australian Territories and the develop countries from South East Asia and Africa.

It is intended that the. College should be adminis-tered by an autonomous council with sole control over staff, curricula and all matters relating to the Col-schemes in the developing countries as a part of Australia's contribution towards the progress of those tions.

extra teachers to speed up the development of Papua New Guinea.

The College will provide a wide variety of courses for ny McCasker as the Belle of the many categories of students.

It is intended that the Col-Having been presented lege graduates should go > a real bacchannalian drun But some, although thinking they might be non-U to say so, did not have such a great time.

It is to be hoped that any future balls will be to these people's satisfaction because after all, students are not meant to be quite so uncivilised as to enjoy primitive sensations all the

The cost is not great when the effects are considered.

As well as assisting the de-The College would provide This overseas service veloping countries, it would places for over 300 trainees would be run by the Comprovide Australia with teachmonwealth Government as ers with a broader knowledge and enriched experiences and would promote The estimated annual cost understanding between Australia and the other countries lege would be £1 million to on a personal and human train 300 students and keep level.

Bush Ball - a Bang

Not many people in Canberra missed gether with Lebo the D.J., the Bush Ball, so it se about half those present were non - university members and they made a bloody nuisance of themselves. Immature school kids, who couldn't hold even the slightest bit of grog, making fools of a lot of people and half the birds from outside had not even reached puberty, judging by their age and conduct.

to me, pinched my beloved they let him in in the first cap and told me that it was place. a good show.

only it was a good turn so they decided not to.

Nice of them, don't you think?

see two of the S.R.C. syndi-

At least he gave my cap And it was heartening to

One rock boy fronted up riate slob - it is a pity that

It is reasonable that out-Said that of course him siders should be allowed in, said and his mates could just but surely, since there is a walk right over the joint, guard on the library door to check members of the University, there could be one on the Union door to check non-members?

They were, for the most part, a damn nuisance. Ah well, so much for the plebs.

Jim Fraser, a man with a cate running out one ineb good eye for the birds, to ed the ball, because it was and Prof. Manning Clark made up the judging party for Belle of the Bush.

After the semi-finals, the three intrepid and expert womanisers chose Miss Pen-with the sash, a lot of champagne and a kiss from each judge, our representative in ken orgy type rort. the Miss Australia contest "Thank you" and that was that.

The ball ended at about one and an exodus was made, leaving behind a filthy mess of grog, broken glass and a few other sundry items.

The grog-could be tapped and sold in plastic cups. Quite a few people enjoy-

There is nothing

WORONI

Box 4 G.P.O. CANBERRA Thurs., August 5

Conscription for Peace but not War

Surely the mission of peace is more worthy than war.

There should be a scheme, more constructive than the present army conscription, to gather Australia's young people to serve at home and abroad in fulfilling a service to their country and helping to promote further peace and understanding.

The phrase "promotion of peace and understanding" may now be so hackneyed as to be classed a cliche, but despite its Utopian overtones, it is not something to be ignored. It is treated as something beyond achievement and very little effort is made to fulfil the cliche.

To use another cliche, the young people of today are the leaders of tomorrow.

The more who have travelled and experienced the problems of the developing countries, the more of tomorrow's leaders will have the understanding and consideration for close neighbours that is so essential in the complex world that we inhabit.

This system of combined experience and goodwill need not be, voluntary as some of those in other countries are. Although this is the ideal form such a system should take, it would nevertheless not secure enough people.

A form of conscription in this Peace Corps could well be introduced with success, which would provide the needed numbers. If you can conscript to kill, you can conscript to save lives. There is much to be done in developing countries in the way of field work.

These conscripts need not be assigned only to overseas duties, there is much that can be done in Australia in the field of social work, etc., that requires just a lot of willing hands.

The conscripts could be used also as an adjunct to the Civil Defence organisations to assist in fighting bush fires, in drought relief and flood relief.

Australia is a land of great potential and its resources only need development.

As some of her great wealth lies in out of the way places, it is difficult to get labour. Here again is a use for the corps, although the Unions are likely to raise a strong objection.

At present Australia has no service such as this abroad, save for the Australian Volunteers Abroad, which is doing a fine job considering the limited resources available.

There is no government scheme nor even any government assisted scheme.

There appears to be a definite need for such a scheme, even if only as a measure of acceptance of Australia's role as leader in Asia.

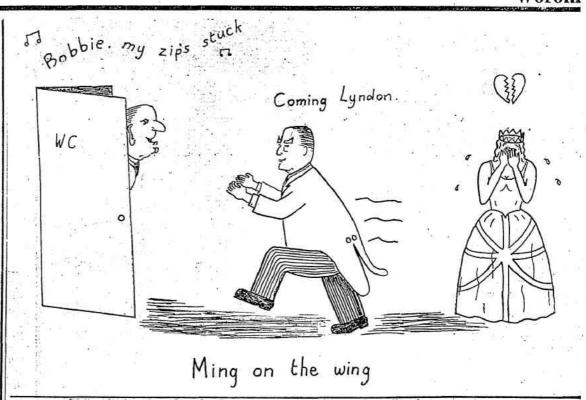

WORONI STAFF....

JOHN STEPHENS, Editor

Sports Editor TERRY READ . Pictorial Editor TIMOTHY SHAIN MURPHY ... Art Editor HARRY ABRAHAM CONTRIBUTORS: John Knox-Knight, Andrew Erskine, Timothy Shaun Murphy, Graham Jackson, Christopher Topp, Chris Arndt, Gordon Hirst...

WORONI is published fortnightly during the year except deximination influences from periods under the satisfies of the ANSING by D. Benttle, Director, of Student Publications, Subscriptor, a year post paid. Registered at the G.P.O. Sydney, transmission by post as a periodical. Perinted by The Queanb Age Pty, Ltd., 210 Crawford Street, Queanbeyan.

Thursday, August 5

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

When you first dabbled in economic policy in your July 8 sub-leader, I could shrug off your words as expressions of a natural need to make your first editorial nice and pretentious. However, when it was economic policy again on July 22 - and now the whole editorial column -I was stirred into making some comments in the name of common sense.

Wool is not our "one really big industry," as you would have us believe it to be. In 1963-64 of a gross national income of £8,734 million, only £530 million was earnt by factors engaged in the production and marketing of ably sophisticated govern- year ago. ment fiscal and monetary policy, it is difficult to imagwould cause a fall in the wool output, being less than 6 per cent of G.N.P. it is at present in a non-drought year, alone leading to the "economic slumps" of which you speak.

they will show that the economy has been able to absorb the first effects of the worst drought in New South national product was 10 per cent higher in the own March quarter of this year growth rate must increase. than in that of 1964, only about 4 per cent of this rise

Your appeal to the governthe economy on "balance of payments" grounds has more stated their case.

£860 million in May 1964. vitalisation programme.

accumulation of such large is not as clear to me as it prosperity and economic intellect and maturity—reserves and behind the ess seems to be to you. growth can never be further and ours—the exercise amounts of foreign curren-

Mr. Holt may bob up and to prosperity after our de-down with the Sydney stock pression we would have to exchange and with develop- pass through ments in the Arbitration Court, but Australia is still employment, good industrial a very long way from international insolvency.

Any big criticism of Australian economic development ther we would, at such time, has to be made on other require another depression. grounds.

We all read with concern that in the past year Australia has fallen from fifth to tenth in world income; per head ranking, this in a period in which inflation has been more acute in this country than in the world at

Sweden, Norway, New Zealand, Iceland and West Germany can all claim a wool. higher per capita income than Australia — claims that In these days of reason they could not have made a

Labour productivity inine the catastrophe that creases are in many ways better guides to, economic progress than changes in national income. Here the figures are even more damn-

At the recent Basic Wage hearing it was submitted on behalf of that noble body, When the 1964-65 National the Employers' Federation of income accounts appear with Australia that productivity the budget later this month, has been increasing at an average annual rate of 1.7 per cent in recent years.

When compared with the Wales history and still con- 5.4 per cent productivity in ine how people would begin tinue to expand at something crease in the past year in close to the high rate of the the U.S.S.R. and ... similarly previous three years. (De- impressive figures for West Bust recurred." spite acute labour shortages, Germany, Japan and other low comparatively

Far greater government exbeing attributable to infla- penditure on education, at all levels, far more comprehensive research into all asment to broaden the base of pects of our economic environment, institutional provisions for Australian capital point, but even here the pro- to be set to work where it phets of gloom have over- will be most productive and a short-term curtailment of Our external reserves in raising taxation levels and fighting for crusts in the al-June 1965 still stood to public investment simulan leys of Fitzroy and St. Kilda: something over £700 million, eously would all be high on compared with a peak of the priority list in a re-

I would submit that part The need for artificial di- material comforts are deof the rationale behind the versification of the economy nied us. But the interests of credit facilities which give second editorial cried even. Mr. Stephens, perhaps you out his problem, us a call on still greater louder for comment. could leave economic policy Delecta tablishment of international So much for July 8. Your ed. by economic inactivity.

our present economic situation ("of full conditions and complacency") once again.

You did not tell us whe-

We had a beauty thirty years ago and we need another today, so I am forced to draw the conclusion that this sad cycle is to continue ad infinitum.

This seems to me to be the source of an enormous contradiction in your editorial.

Further, you tell us that "the last credit squeeze showed just what could be achieved in scaring the populace into action."

The only action that I could discern amongst the 160,000 unemployed labour units in this country, while they are waiting in queues outside the employment offices, was that which brought the House of Representatives to within a few Communist preferences in the Queensland electorate of Moreton deadlock.

employed were working at below their full capacity and capital lay unused and half-used in many

You instruct us to "imagto think and act if something approaching the Great

They would probably think and act very much as Australians were thinking acting in the 1930's as they wandered hopelessly from the factory operating at half capacity to the shop which need not have opened.

grounds upon which to argue against affluence. Melbourne may not see the great football of the thirties again unconsumption expenditure by til the kids are once more

We may all see life's true worth; more easily when

You told us that a DE- alone in future, and leave

ECONOMIC POLICY such as that being presently BUNKUM such as that being presently were to become prosperous. eral attitude of couldn't give Presumably, on our road a damn." cy, is that a contingency PRESSION was needed if we me to my "laziness and gen-

Yours fraternally,

- ROSS GARNAUT.

PROSH THANKS

Dear Sir.

The procession on Saturday provides me with a rare opportunity to compliment students on their initiative and enthusiasm.

Too often, our campus has been plagued with the unfortunate disease commonly known as apathy. Bush Week in general and particularly the procession on Saturday, showed no evidence that this apathy existed.

I have nothing but praise for all those concerned who so enthusiastically gave quite considerable amounts their time to make our few days of celebrations a wonderful success.

I wish to thank the multitude of students who took an active part in the procession both along the route and behind the scenes.

I hope that next year some function can be organised for those people who took part in the procession. I regret that this year there was only one 9-gallon keg and this, of course, had to go to the winning float.

Twenty floats from a university with a student popu-lation of a little over 2,000 half of whom are parttimers, is a wonderful achievement and stands as one of the highest proportions of involvement any student population in Australia.

has come of age. Yours, etc.,

> KEITH BAKER, Procession Director.

REWRITE

Sir, - Demented - sorry Disgruntled Dick may It is possible to find have a point, but I challenge him to demonstrate some facility in the use of his native (?) tongue by producing a clear, clean, and if possible witty paraphrase of the sentiments to which he gave such poor and monotonous expression in last week's WORONI.

As well as giving a better impression of his level of might even help him to sort

> Delectable Deirdre (also non-resident)

Bungendore Rort

First thing to be seen in Bungendore, that hallowed shrine of alcoholic pilgrims, was a grey car prowling the streets containing two bruiser type cops.

a bright cheery fashion, they himself in the box thorns just said 'day, and tried to next to the lower pub. run him down.

the barmaid immediately in with even the least amount formed one and all that of comfort. there were reinforcements in had better watch out.

By mid-day there were about 20 students in town.

nor the inhabitants.

milk bar said she dunno looking for. what to think about it — A very significant point better wait and ask her old about this trip to Bungen man when he gets in.

in town.

The other was hiding behind a brick wall just a bit arrest was made because the further down the street from lad had been stewed all day the Royal. They locked up all the birds at the Royal, too all those poor damn budgies in a cage, locked in.

By 1 p.m., about 100 students had arrived and the something to do with admost fantastic wild rort was ministration, I think) made kangaroo figured prominently, as did tell us anothery, dirty as buggery, much to ble. the amusement of the four O

Ignar; the folksinger, must be commended on his masterful rendition of the best of the various verses.

The spiciest list of scandal to happen occurred to thank all bods who sold Sundry Horrors and Bitter Lemons. Your magnificent selling abilities were really appreciated as was the time you gave up to sell - particularly those who forsook Bungendore for the higher joys of helping Bush Week . . . Thank you muchly.

HILARY AND CAROLYN

WANT

When a bloke said hallo in some poor chappie relieved

Being in box thorns, he On retiring to the Royal, had quite a task to do it

Reliable sources town and that one and all that one naughty young thing tried to race off the cops.

Seems that "young thing" attempted to undermine the Nobody seemed particular morals of the poor fuzzies ly excited about the prospect made a few propositions to of a wild day's entertain them, crawled into the car ment, neither the students and was dropped out immediately, even though this One woman serving in a was just what they dore was that, even though A surprise for those in the crowd reached about 500 the place for the first time by late afternoon, only one was that there are two pubs arrest was made for the whole day.

Reports indicate that this and was blocking pedestrian traffic outside the pub simply by sleeping on the path. He was bailed out in time for the Bush Week Ball.

That Burton chappie (has his way out to have a look at Fantastic it was, truly. what was going on, but was The elephant and the neatly collared by a few stalwarts and detained in the bar to keep him out of trou-

> On his return to the staid. stately society of Canberra he reported that his students had done very well for themselves, causing almost no trouble and had had a great time.

> Surprisingly, he was right there was very little trouble and most people had an enjoyable time.

And what happened to the Woroni tried to get an interview with the station master, but he was either hiding, or had left town.

So Woroni had a look around and is very pleased to be able to report that the lavatories at the station are quite clean, and very peace

A symphony of movement and grace . .

BUY BASIL'S BEEFY BURGERS

Golden Fleece Grill Bar

OPEN TILL MIDNIGHT, 7 DAYS A WEEK

A.N.U.'s seller flogs Sundry Horror to charitable woman.

PILL not the answer - says Mavis

The recent dinner and cabaret held at the Hotel Canberra by the International Club realised about £100 for the Freedom from Hunger Campaign.

The club president, Karl from MBS arrived.

Henne, said that he was very sence of students among the Bush Week. guests, who included diplomatic officials and, of course

The guests were served an austerity meal of rice (but as Mavis said, they probably all ate well before they came) which was cooked by the hotel staff.

Mavis.

The Club managed to keep costs down by using female members of the Club as waitresses.

The cabaret bore a close resemblance to the OSA concert the previous. Saturday but was nevertheless good entertainment."

Mavis lapsed out of char acter on several occasions to talk seriously on the prob-lem that the campaign is attempting to eradicate.

She confessed that she who was so well fed could really not think of the solu

"What ever it is, the Pill is not the answer."

She became Maggie Dence again to plea for more support of Australian actors and actresses in stage and tele vision productions.

She attributed the success of Mavis Bramston Show to the use solely of local art-

After escaping hordes of utograph hunters, joined a group of A.N.U. students at their table for a glass of champagne.

She confessed she was becoming type cast and although she enjoyed the part of Mavis, she was tiring of it and could hardly wait to get back to revue work.

The majority of her time is taken up with public rela tions work for AMPOL.

She appeared a little bore with the entire evening and welcomed the relief when one of the script writers Russian release.

Mavis just got out of Canpleased at the attendance, berra in time to avoid be-There was a conspicuous ab. ing captured as a prize for

Stupendous stunt

Bush Week hit the high spots early on Friday night last when seven prized Dobell paintings, valued at between £40,000 and £70,000, were removed from the Australian War Memorial.

received national press cov- rary. erage, was apparently the work of two students.

It seems that a week or so before the event they had mobtrusively bedded down n the War Memorial and taken notes of the security guards' rounds.

On the night they remained behind after the tourists and been herded out and again studied the guard's

When the little man had made his second or third-round, the students ceased posing as stuffed war veterans and went into action with the precision of international art thieves.

They removed no less than seven canvases from their hooks.

Taking great care not to damage them, they carried than a mere formality. them to the door in the aircraft display room.

Here it was necessary to cut a padlock on the inside of the door.

This they did and so as not to cause the authorities any expense or consternation left benind an unbroken padlock with keys attached

Exiting through the back door, they placed their loot in an awaiting car and drove to the School of General Studies Library.

Once at the Library, conscience got the better of them.

Having failed to obtain permission from the authorities to remove the goods from the War Memorial, they felt it best to ask permission

This masterly stunt, which to store them in the Lib-

Permission was willingly granted and the paintings went inside the Library on the ground floor. The outside door was locked lest thieves should strike.

The press were called so that they could take photos, However, before they ar-rived the library attendant had rung A.N.U.'s Security Chief who refused to allow

A quarter of an hour after the press were called, the same anonymous voice informed the police, who hurried to the scene.

Smelling a rat, the constabulary took finger prints' on one of the paintings.

However, it is obvious that this step was no more

Would such an efficient prankster, who had pulled off what could have been Australia's richest art robbery, have failed to

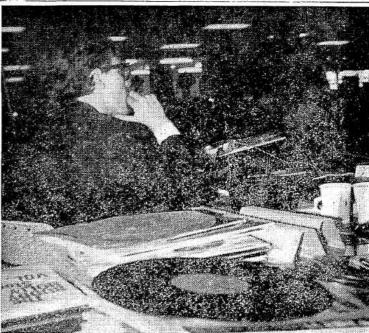

The War Memorial Author: ities have said they intend to press charges.

This can be no more than an attempt to save face.

That such a stunt was possible reveals certain weakness in their security system.

Furthermore, the paintings' absence was not noticed until a reporter from S.M.H. went to the War Memorial with Major McGrath.

This was in spite of the fact that the guard's rounds took him past an illuminated and very blank wall.

Record attempter Oldmeadow

Tass Correspondent visits Uni.

Last week the Australian correspondent for Soviet news agency Tass visited WORON1, complete with interpreter to find out just what Bush Week was and what was the aim of it all.

He left complete with in terpreter and piles of infor mation on his subject with a copy of the "Sundry Horror" and a subscription to WORONI.

Any copy in future WORONIs is likely to have

Carnegie Travel Grants To Australians

NEW YORK (USIS). -Travel grants from the Carnegie Corporation in New York were announced last month. Nineteen Australians and New Zealanders who are engaged in the field of Education have received the grants.

The grants are intended and promise to become acquainted with colleagues and with recent developments in their own fields in the U.S. and Canada.

One of the Australians to receive the grants was J. A. Barnard from whose grant will enable him to study the teaching of Economic History in U.S.

The Carnegie Corporation and Educational foundation was created in 1911 by steel primarily to enable individ- maker and philanthropist, uals of exceptional ability Andrew Carnegie for the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the U.S. and certain wealth countries.

1011111

BUSH WEEK PROSH BEST EVER

PROSH-IT said the sign, supported by four Uni. girls in black. And behind that came King Ming's spire and thistle, with bagpipes, followed by the King himself.

Our man Ming led Australian public in shape of a sheep and once did the Australian pub-company of troupers, made lic in the shape of a sheep quite an impression on some make any sort of complaint, minds, but unfortunately deor even bother about what was going on, except to drop occasionally something from the women" and "down with the back end. "to the accompaniment

It is remarkable how ac of the bell on the back. curately this depicts the picture of the Australian public the two on the tray, too — in the shape of humans, all-those people watching alldon't you think?

The R.S.L. kindly ran a A note of sobriety and sen, been due to the stimulant of float with its leading mem-sibility was added to the pro-Bush Week-itis. true colours.

The Australian war machinto the condition of our na- eral public. tion's defences, as did the Chain gang, representing some obscure political party faceles they were - presumably Labor.

The exact purpose of the rowing club's entry was rather groggy, to say the least.

And speaking of grog, it would have been hard to find a more appropriate person than Bert to take the part of Thispissed.

Behind the jazz band came were not as amusing as they could have been.

the Bang showed what happens the when you try, and succeed.

> The fire engine with its generated into just a mob of clottish students yelling "Up men" to the accompaniment

It must have been hard for the time.

bers on board and Eric cession by the WUS racial Baume for once showed his equality float, and also the wild-life float, both of these being very effective; but not slaught of student opinion ine provided a great insight really impressive to the gen-

Censorship, police relationships with students and the Churchill appeal were also presented but served, so it seemed, merely to fill up the procession, judging by the public's reaction to them.

Lennox House provided gap filler - one thing about Lennox blokes, they may not the floats and their excessive done this year. be very good at anything, speed. but at least they do things.

but they tried. And the Big although this could have lic.

The general public, what little there was there, seemed rather stunned by the onthere was very little comment from the members of the crowd and not as much from their normal positions laughter as one would ex-

When questioned on their the prosh route. impressions of the procession, most people said that it was quite good but that is a bit of intelligent withey had not been able to imagination to dream assimilate all that had gone past, due to the closeness of

One must remember that In general, however, the for the most part the public marching girls, who number and quality of the reads slower, assimilates floats was indicative of an slower and thinks slower ould have been. increase in student interest than students and so one Neither were the clowns, in extra-curricular activities, must process slower in pub-

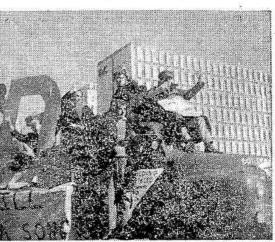

Harry Williams had referred

The success of this prosh, and undoubtedly it was success, goes to show that a little organisation goes long way and that it doesn't take much to make a good prosh - just enough people to alleviate their bottoms for long enough to make a float, then sit on it round

All that is then needed to make an excellent procession is a bit of intelligent wit and good floats.

And, surprisingly, this was

All those that took are to be thanked for their efforts and congratulated for the success of same.

Prosh's winners

FORNICATIOI

es an illusion of union,

Mr. Peter Paterson asked

flected his point of view.

July 28. At a discussion conducted by the S.C.M., the issue "Is Fornification Necessarily Wrong?" was debated. The discussion was opened by Brian Farran and Graham Kelly.

"Morality should be creat- of another person." ive. God is a creator not a rulemaker," he said.

ally Fornication is Unchris- ise." This can only be uptian, not because it is in held in marriage. some way imperfect.

Fornication can be justi- with a quotation from to remain in this state. fied if it is a true expression Bishop Robinson: "Outside He stressed that this w

"supreme expression of love an unreserved sharing and were unavailable. between two people." Genu- commitment of one person ine love in intercourse mir- to another." rors the love of God.

tion of the Christian Church. agreement with Kelly warn- neck out? said that once the ed of the possible deceptive-Church held that procreation ness of intercourse. was the only justification for intercourse. has now changed.

He said that Christian estranged as before." views on morals lag behind and are based on the mise. That I love from the attitude of society. The essense of my being and ex-Church does not provide an perience the other person in eternal set of moral and the essence of her ethical standards.

"Moralists should look at tation from C. S. Lewis. the positive, not negative, "Perhaps an act of forniqualities of fornication."

Kelly concluded with a ly the gap where our love quotation from Bishop Robinson: "At the ultimate Bishop of God ought to be." level of moral value, per- es ,the Chairman, Professor sons count more than prin- Ogsten, opened the meeting ciples, and therefore prin- for general discussion. ciples should never dictate to persons."

Farran spoke in support supported fornication. In reof the issue. He based his ply, Kelly referred to the arguments on the role of Quakers who, he said, relove in this context.

"Love should be an act of Thursday, August 5 to the prostitute in "Never On Sunday." The position of two people marooned on an island was suggested. Referring to this, Father Kelly opened in opposition will, a decision to commit Shirras said that as long as my life completely to that the couple had been baptised and were prepared to "To love is not just a give themselves entirely to strong feeling - it is a de- one another for life, then He maintained that gener- cision, a judgment, a prom- this was a sacrament.

After the meeting he mentioned that the act of mar-He carried on this idea riage was simply a promise

He stressed that this was of love with no fear or lust. marriage, sex is bound to be only possible where the nor-Sexual intercourse is the an expression of less than mal processes of marriage

Paterson asked why the Bible was so often quoted to justify laws in past times. Farran stressed the infer-Kelly discussed the posi- iority of fornication and in Was the Church sticking its > Kelly replied that this was an example of the State us-"Sexual intercourse creat- ing the Church as a tool.

without love leaves people as contemporary example in Biblical quotations in American political speeches: "Erotic love has one pre-

Finally, there was a discussion on whether the Church should lay down laws or simply give a guide to Christian living.

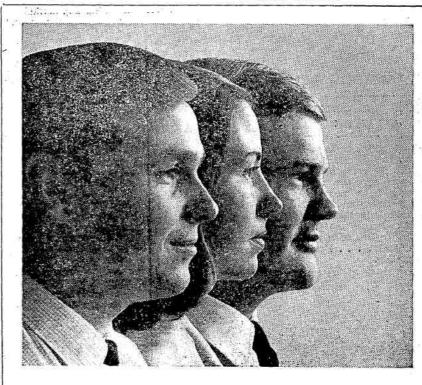

Farran ended with a quo-The meeting, with the exception of Father Shirres agreed that the Church cation merely defines sharpshould be a guide only.

Overall, the enthusiastic audience participation re-Following the two speechflected strongly the intellectually stimulating nature of the two speeches.

The small audience reflected the general indifferwhether any Christian sects ence to intelligent discussion within the University.

For those who did have sufficient interest to attend, it was a most rewarding ex-Farran mentioned that perience.

- A. N. ERSKINE

APFFPS ADMINISTRATIO

The Commonwealth Public Service Board's Administrative Training Scheme at Canberra provides twelve months' special training in government administration. This is challenging work of national importance, with excellent prospects for advancement. The salary range for trainees is £1,482-£1,848 for men and £1,281-£1,647 for women. The minimum commencing salary for honours graduates is £1,543 for men and £1,342 for women. Applications from final-year students in Arts, Commerce, Economics, Law or Science should be forwarded to the Secretary,

COMMONWEALTH PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD CANBERRA

GARBAGE, Mr. West

Words, words and still more words. Any criticism which fails to be positive and constructive is just words, words, words no matter how emotional or eloquent may their delivery by oration be.

some marvellous generalisa-tions and I accuse him of being a frightened citizen capable of being charged by any sane Christian of almost committing the sin of fective against such an exdespair which leads to hopeless despondency.

Mr. West, the tenor of my argument is this:

He is by nature an indiv- est students into a better fiable. idual as well as a social and understanding of humanity, religious being.

movement, whether it be emphasis on Western cul-Communist, Democratic, So- ture. cialist, Christian, Humanist, Materialist rests upon the important fact that Man is an individual.

dividuality and he may con- legislation as, for example Asia by pointing the bone form for a generation but the White Australia Policy at the U.S.A. and Australia: eventually individualism will is a barrier between Asia be triumphant.

Communism is ever changing and is a world wide movement. This is true.

But we do not have to accept its ideology. We do not have to compromise with it.

The West has no need for the Berlin wall or the Bamboo curtain. The West has clash of cultures. It is the Australia and serve humanmany faults and has made question of Government. many errors, but basically it has allowed the individuality of man to develop his political and religious nature.

adequate appraisal of Mr. we are now at this late hour pondency, such as exempli-West's speech but here are embarked upon measures to fied by Mr. West and honsome answers to two or three build them." of the questions asked by him. Mr. West asks -

(a) "Why has more than half the world adopted Communism as an instrument not merely of revolution but of betterment?".

necessary. First is the fact Surely our need for de fact of Communism grows that most of those who have fence has arisen simply be in strength.

"embraced" Communism, e.g. cause "Communism has China and Tibet are illiteral shown itself as a force will. Let us act now and put held to that "conviction" by idea which is explosive.

military power and coercion. What then is the future?

Two considerations are necessary; (1) If Mr. West means by "what we offer" as Democracy with either Capitalistic or Socialistic interpretation has he forgotten Japan, the Philippines, Nigeria, Malaysia, India, just mention a few countries of interest?: (2) Little of Communistic acceptance has been outside the forceful act of bloody revolution with the "liberated" masses voting for one man, one party with no right of objection - hence such "minor" problems as the refugees in Hong Kong,

(c) "I would like to remind you that the idea is much, much more explosive than the fact."...

Mr. West seems to override the issue. The fact is that Hungary, East Berlin, China, Vietnam, Malaya, were or

Mr. Morris West at the fact of military aggression Teach-In on Vietnam made which claims to "liberate mankind.

> This fact now threatens Australia to the north.

No idea is going to be efplosive fact. I contend that Australia has no need to be "liberated" any more than Before attempting to an- India, Japan or Malaya for swer the question raised by example.

The cultures of various Asian Civilisations are rich ity. A judicious enactment Man is not a static being. in history and can lead honthan if thought becomes In its development, any narrow and bigotted laying fectively assist these nat-

Anyone will readily admit, after considered appraisal, that there is a need for un-Deprive him of this in- derstanding and that such cise the political events in and Australia.

> Fronts to impose by revolu- or social worker in Asia. tion and war the ultimate "utopia" of man. The ques-

This leads to the strange statement in his speech of the fact that. "We have for in your hostile criticism the past 20 years shamefully which usually consists of neglected the necessary de- words and nothing else, that Space does not permit an fences of this country and you cannot climb above des-

But surely Mr. West we do of eloquent nonsense as not have to build our de- expounded by so many false fences because Asian peo- prophets. ples (so many and so varled in social and political structure) have a desire to er than words: While we Two considerations, are impose their ideas upon us, are arguing about ideas the necessary. First is the fact. Surely our need for de-fact of Communism grows military power and coercion.

(b) "Why is it that what we offer to serve the same end has been rejected by more than half the world?"

What then is the future?

The task is twofold. First is devoid of common sense is our moral right to use and entitled to transpormitiating power to stem the tide of this so-called "Liberating Force."

adventures into logic which the devoid of common sense is our moral right to use and entitled to transporment than half the world?"

The task is twofold. First is devoid of common sense is our moral right to use and entitled to transport the tide of this so-called "Liberating Force."

South Korea, Malaya and

ng terminan air

Morris West at Teach-in now Vietnam stand as realof military science is justi-

Second it our duty to efions which Communism believes must be embraced in the Revolution of Peace.

To all who have criticised. and still continue to criti-

(a) Are you so convinced that what you believe is But this is not to be con- right for Asia, that you will fused with the determined volunteer to work as a effort of the Communist teacher, tradesman, nurse

Are you willing to give up tion in Asia is not one of a what you enjoy here in ity in Asia?

> (b) Are you so caught up estly face the question?

I will admit to this truth. If not, let us hear less

Action always speaks loud-

ate (I say this without any ing to coerce, terrorise and aside the innate tendencies slant of derogatory sense). engage in wholesale conflict of intellectualism to degen-Secondly is the fact that in order to gain its ends. of intellectualism to degenthose countries who have Thus again I repeat, Mr. erate into metaphysical ad-"embraced" Communism are West, it is the fact not the umbrations of philosiphical

NUAUS ATTEMPTS NATIONAL PAPER

A planned newspaper published by NUAUS was due to come off the presses in the last week of July. This attempt to produce a national student newspaper is heralded by some to be the most significant project undertaken by NUAUS. However, it comes at a time when there is great trouble in NUAUS.

student newspaper editors concentrating on news of and local NUAUS secretaries national importance to studwhen an appeal for help was ents and reports from all the

The paper intends to be ties.

Union

reconsiders

charges

The scale of charges previously proposed by the Union for night hiring has

At a recent meeting of the Union Board of Management

it was decided now to charge

only functions that continued after 11 o'clock as this security and Union staff or

However, functions which do not go till eleven will be

S.R.C. told its representa tives on the Board to vote against the first proposal

all Union facilities and that this new proposal was a charges certainly is justified and should not affect many clubs and societies adverse few functions con-

concerning the charges

keeping the

been revised.

overtime.

compromise.

This revised

The newspaper was an a unifying element between nounced in a circular to all all Australian Universities campuses on various activi-

> It was intended to have one issue in second term and at least three in third term.

It is intended to publish the paper, which is yet unnamed, at least fortnightly next year. It will have an initial printing of 60,000 copies.

Printing will be done by the Murdoch group at cost in return for considerable advertising.

The Union President, John Ridely, said in Perth last week that recent dissensions in the Union was a reflection of the changing power structure. It was a change in the accent of constituent opin-

This was caused by a clash between those members of the Union who regarded NUAUS simply as a welfare organisation and those who looked to it for b political representation.

The local NUAUS execu ive has decided not to support the new newspaper. The WORONF editor was nformed of its formation and asked for co-operation pefore the A.N.U.'s NUAUS ecretary was informed of its aception or even consulted n regards to the proposal. R.C. has decided to with-

CAR TRIAL

As part of the inter-Hall competition, the car trial proved both popular and success. ful.

Last Thursday night, 38 cars were sent on their way from Bruce Hall at two minute intervals.

An enthusiastic cheered each car on its way A checquered flag, one or two "hot" cars, also contributed in creating suitable atmosphere.

The course, which frustrated many navigators, took the trialists to Bungendore, east of Lake George to Collector and then south towards the Cotter and finally Black Mountain.

The trial, which covered 138 miles, tested navigation and timing rather than the

But points were being deducted for both late and early arrivals at check

An average speed of - 30 m.p.h. was required, but at this speed a couple of cars came to grief. The check points were generally situated on cross roads and points were deducted for not approaching the check points from the appropriate direction.

Michael Summer - Potts from Lennox encountered one check point three times

The barbecue on Black Mountain was welcomed by the trialists most of whom managed to get cold feet.

The many types of heaters tried were equally unsuccessful in this region.

Burton was successful overall, while Lennox and Forrestry shared second position. Bruce filled the minor placing.

Individually, Clemons from Burton was first and he was followed by two Lennox drivers, J. Lally and J. Le-

Ban on Columbo Plan Students' political activity

The New Zealand Prime Minister has declined to withdraw the clause in the Colombo Plan regulations which requires Colombo Plan students to refrain from political activity in New Zealand.

The refusal to withdraw the clause followed a letter from the President of the N.Z. Student Press Association, Mr. A. R. Haas.

He said: "These clauses unreasonably inhibit the activities of overseas students while in New Zealand."

In reply to the letter, Mr. Holyoak said: "I am inclined to think that you may be making too much of this clause." ... "This is not a As the NUAUS expected matter for New Zealand nancial support from the alone and I think that gov-N.U. without consulting it ernments sending students n the paper's inception, the overseas are entitled to expect some limitations of this old any support, although kind. I would not, therefore supports the proposal in propose to seek any amend-

BOOKS

For books on all subjects, see Canberra's first book shop ---

VERITY HEWITT

Garema Arcade - Tel. J 2127

Patterson makes a point

Put the 'bush' back in Bush Week

The Byzantine derivations are strongly evident in this piece from Leonard French's current exhibition at the R.G. Menzies Library. For details see Booking Office, this page).

Booking Office

A miscellany of what's on in town.

Theatre

CANBERRA THEATRE - David H. McIlwraith's presestation of the exciting ethnic ballet troupe LES BAL-LETS AFRICAINS; one performance only Sun., August

CHILDERS ST. HALL (on campus) Aristophanes bawdy anti-war satire LYSISTRATA is tellingly updated in this Theatre Group production by Anne Codfrey-Smith; tonight Thur., August 5 and tomorrow Fri., August 6 at 8.15 p.m. (see review these pages).

THE PLAYHOUSE - Peter Batey's production of Feter Ustinov's East-West satire ROMANOFF AND JULIET with Peter France in the lead; Wed., August 18 to Sun., August 24, nightly except Mons. at 8 p.m.

GALLERY A (at Town House Motel) Exhibition of OCEANIC SCULPTURE collected from West Iran, Papua and New Guinea by Miss Senta Taft; opens Thur., August 6 and continues until Wed., September 1.

MACQUARIE GALLERY (City, Hill Theatre Centre) Exhibition of four landscape painters, Ray Crooke, Edward Hall, George Lawrence and Roland Wakelin; conin tinues until Sat., August 7 (open from 10 a.m. till 9 p.m.)

R. G. MENZIES LIBRARY (on campus) Exhibition of the Samof Miniatures by LEONARD FRENCH, in which he demonstrates his skills as a painter of the epic and heroic in a manner strongly derived from the Byzantines; continues until Sunday, August 14.

24 STUDIO NUNDAH (MacArthur, Ave. A O'Connor) continues until Sun., August 8: exhibition of a series of abstract oils entitled "Pattern in a Landscape" by local artist JOHN IVANAC, opens Thur., August 12 and continues until Sun., August 22.

Music

CANBERRA THEATRE - Orchestral Concert by the Sydney Symphony Orchestra conducted by DEAN LIXON with Neville Amadio - flute, as soloist; Thur. and Fri., August 6 and 7, at 8 p.m.

Avarian the live?

AUGUST BUILDING

Cinema

PHYSICS THEATRE ... (on ; campus) ... Vittorio . "de Sica's BICYCLE THIEVES, voted by the 1952 international critics poll organised by "Sight and Sound" as the best film in cinema history, last showing in the Uni. Film Society's present series; Thurs., August 5 at 8 p.m.

hursday, August 5

AGAIN this year Bush Week followed the trend of the last couple of years - less bush and less week. It is about time for a surroundings was it a match form or its title.

The last two years especially have shown an increased emphasis on the non-bush aspects, i.e., the scavenger hunt and the prosh.

This year's planned bush music concert by the Folk Music Society was cancelled because of a ban imposed upon the society by the administration.

The Bush Ball was bush in songs in the pub. name only and not even with the bucketed shrubs camouflaging the awkward had a chartered bus service change in either its for the Childers Street balls of the past.

> The annual back to the bush pilgrimage to Bungendore, the highlight of the seven-day Bush Week of old has evolved the form of which the pioneers would be ashamed (even though the juke box was out of action this year).

Gone are the grave-yard speeches, the guided tours, and the singing of bush that the Bitter Lemons will tre in Sydney in 1953. The be rocking the Royal.

In their place this year we folk club regulars.

either change the name to, folk songs. say Commemoration Day(s), or extend the festivities to be the Bungendore Progress Association.

Early A.N.U. Folk Music Society

tation of the original musithe folk than on the stage tradition.

It will be a slight adap-

It will feature Ian Dryman, Jucko Kervis and other

"Reedy River" was first RAMUS

next year it is rumoured presented in the New Theamusical was written by Dick Diamond and is merely an Next year the S.R. should exercise for singing lots of

The plot is very flimsy, it seven days of bush activities. is a collection of Bush A worthwhile charity would stories strung together by

It popularised several folk songs which are now accepted standards, like "Four next term the Little Johnny Cakes," "Bal-olk Music Society lad of 1891" and "Eumerelwill present the folk musi-cal, "Reedy River." ia Sore" and has enjoyed many revivals since its first many revivals since its first performance.

The first production gave cal with the accent more on people like Alex Hood their first public appearances in folk music. Watch for it eagerly in third term.

PETER

"Deserted Mine Cape York" is one of Ray Crooke's stark landscapes which form part of a ioint exhibition of landscapes at the Macquarie Galleries exhibition at the City Hill Theatre Centre. (For details of dates and times consult Booking Office on this page).

AN OLD PLAY MAKES A TOPICAL COMMENT

Aristophanes up-dated

IN A performance of "Lysistrata," a Greek by Aristocomedy phenes, the Theatre Group showed how ed in modern idiom.

The translation that with a broad mind.

Some may feel that the sion to the play. emphasis on slapstick and bawd sacrifices the serious

However, when serious comment on war is made, it has the greater effect in contrast with the gay atmosphere in which it is embodied.

Briefly, the comedy outmen refuse them any sex- most appealing character. life) and shows its success.

The compressed action and reference could be made

It's obvious that the cast chorus.

was relishes every moment of used made the most of the the slapstick "battle" scenes bawdy elements and this and they also show their enplay should appeal to those thusiasm singing drunken songs in a riotous conclu-

> In most scenes the woshowed a superiority men over the men both as warlords and actors.

> some Slovenly diction by members of the male chorus obscured their lines at times. This criticism may also be applied to the Magistrate, who at first was incomprelines Lysistrata's method of hensible, though he over-forcing the men-folk to cease came this fault as the play warring (by having the wo- progressed and proved the

The women, here a special ter portrayal better than the men, who had less individual personality.

Jane Chapman showed by her mastery of every scene, successfully Greek the continuous movement that she was in her element drama can be express- sustain interest throughout. as leader of the female > that between could match Myrrhine and Kinesias seduction scene with a twist.

Effective group, colourful costumes and an ideally plain background created a most impressive, if at times musical comedy, setting setting that was particularly spectacular for the Bachanalian "rort" which climaxed the production.

Martin Ward's music combined well with the script for this scene, in which Anne Godfrey-Smith's petent handling of a large cast is shown at its best.

MARTIN

New Releases

from

Angus and Robertson's JONAH

(By Louis Stone), 27/6 MARY GILMORE A Tribute. 45/-THE EMPTY STREET (By Peter Cowan), 22/6 THE CAVE AND THE SPRING (By A. D. Hope), 35/-THE FEAR (By Thomas Keneally)

> A & R's East Row, Civic

TUFFIN'S

THE MUSICAL

INSTRUMENT CENTRE

Whether your taste be jazz, folk, classical or whatever.

TUFFIN'S

AINSLIE AVENUE

"Outside the Mall"

HITCHCOCK'S LOVE OF THE BIZARRE

The art of suspense

THE MASTER of Suspense perceived early in his creative life that Fear (and its variations of tension, frustration, apprenhension, hysteria) is more universal and constant build up that is as near to

And while many people hate terror, they love to share, vicariously, the horror of others.

To project an image of the macabre on T.V., Hitchcock assumes the role of a de-this film was given an im-humanised and corpulent mense amount of publicity

To find Hitchcock's characteristic merits we have to liberately underplayed at the turn to the longer feature beginning and for a good

Each film speaks for itself and, artistically, fails or suc- be its detail.

Earlier the word "dehumanised" was used. This well on the way to being lack of warmth and fulfil- rubbish, sick rubbish at ment contributes very great- that. But the way Hitchcock ly to the creation of sus- handles it, it is brilliant.

Alfred Hitchcock's movies lack warmth and passion.

beautiful but unearthly ice-decided that there should be brilliantly used the same very few earthy scenes to technique in his cruel play distract the viewer from the business of Suspense.

But more than anything else, this director's verisimilitude contributes to the frantic theme music. : triumphs of his pictures. There are two beautifully

He has an uncanny ability to assess just where dividing line, between hum- blood-curdling climax orously overdone horror and screen history. carefully controlled tension applies to many activities be-controversial effort, has feeling than any perfect as the camera can create.

ople That is, the camera peers to through the window of an apartment building.

In the apartment there is Hitchcock has devoted him- a dull, stale atmosphere, self to exploiting Fear ever with Janet Leigh and John Gavin in dull, stale undress, talking tediously.

Hitchcock saw to it that as a shocker par excellence.

Thus the excitement is dewhile after.

If a condemned man can executed immediately, ceeds because of its major then it is easier on the qualities and the fidelity of nerves than waiting for a shock that MUST come.

The plot of "Psycho" is

He apparently realised that such a bizarre would need a slow clinical-His actresses are often build up, so that the audience would not laugh outright at the film as a mad Hitchcock seems to have fantasy (Tennessee Williams "Suddenly Last Summer).

All this is done in only foil being the ominous, photographed murders in

"Psycho" was the culmination of a successful pattern hanging from a tenament, More important than the of fine films in which great roof - top, as his comrade limax is the build up. This care is taken that the horri- lurches to his death. climax is the build up. This care is taken that the horrifying elements follow logicalsides suspense movies. ly (at least in the context noticed "Vertigo." They land "PSYCHO," Alfred's most of the movie) from everyday ed to perceive its intense RICHARD HAIGH

Hitchcock is rightfully obsessed with making mundane happenings SUG-GEST tension.

A good example of this is the slaying of an American in a gay Eastern marketplace in the "Man Who Knew Too Much."

The gaiety is just a little too gay. And in the memorable climax to the work, Hitchcock elicits much tension out of such a predictable occasion as an orchestra recital .

The twist: a dignitary is to be assassinated when the cymbals clash. The cymbals do not clash for a very long

There is this superimposing of the melodramatic on to the realistic.

One of Hitchcock's most FORMIDABLE films I have left until last - the surrealistic creation, "Vertigo." This provides Hitchcock with the opportunity of embroidering the most incredible plot with overwhelming photography, yet another cause of his popularity is this insistence of his on employing sensitive men.

In "Vertigo" the elaborate shots of a steep, winding creates crushing dizziness in the audience.

"Vertigo" is, I think, his best film. It is different from the others because it does seek to establish a realistic introduction at all.

As the titles flash on the commonplace manner, the screen, spinning colours as sail the viewers.

Then there is the close-up of a human eye, opened wide with fright (the eye seems "Psycho" and the most to be one of Hitchcock's ob in sessions).

And then there is the spectacle of a detective

Australian critics barely

"dream-like quality, noted "Vertigo" was a weird and convincing nightmare atmosphere with oddly beautiful colour scenes of Francisco, that somehow blends with the (literally) hurtling events.

The emphasis of Hitchcock appears to be altering. Indications are that he is trying to centre his plots on CHAR-ACTER instead of on the usual mingling of reality with fantasy that is rammed home by ace camera work.

If this trend continues, his work and reputation could well retrogress, because sym pathy and genuine emotions have never been his strong point.

SPECIAL STUDENTS' CONCESSION

Now full-time Students can enjoy The Bulletin-Australia's leading journal of fact and opinion at the specially reduced subscription rate of 52/- per annum for 52 issues or 26/- for 26 issues. This offer is available only to fulltime Students attending a University or Technical College. Simply forward, with your application, some evidence of your status in the form of a letter from the Principal or Registrar of a University or any other higher educational institution. Read The Bulletin every week for its com-mentaries on current affairs and contentious issues, plus reviews of Literature, Films, Music, Art and its comprehensive economic surveys.

Bureaucracy the bane

WHILE I must de- best works, the others being plore the Bush Week The Strapper in Newcastle paintings from the South Wales. Australian War Mem- Last year taken to safeguard his paintings present.
some of the best-works of one of Australia's world from great public galof one of Australia's greatest artists.

That the skill with which exhibition. the stunt was carried through was with harmless through was with harmless Mary Gilmore were shown, intent, begs the quest of yet Billy Boy, one of Dobell's what might have become of major works; was unavail these priceless works had able due to purely adminis this been the work of professional art thieves.

lack of securiety made obvious in this the biggest art theft ever in Australia requires some questioning of like storing valuable works in the clung to its paintings deter War Memorial.

The paintings, in fact, are not the property of the War of Australia's best paintings Memorial, but are only being held by them in trust.

They were painted originally by Dobell while employ. Australia's art treasures? ed by the Department of Works in the Civil Construction Corps.

Memorial was given the trusteeship, but over the years has become more possessive of them.

Billy Boy, one of the paint- any great paintings left. ings removed, is regarded by ELIZABETH Dobell as one of his three JAMES stunt of the removal Art Gallery and the Portrait of the seven Dobell oil the Art Gallery of New

Last year as a tribute to orial, it proves the in- Dobell, a retrospective exadequate precautions hibition was staged with all

leries and numerous private collections were lent for the

The Strapper and Dame trative reasons in the War Memorial. Despite the protestations of many leading figures in Aust ralia's art world the War Memorial, in a bowerbirdfashion, mined that no one should share the pleasure of some

How long is such a body disregarding the public taste or ideas, to keep some of

Surely such paintings as these should be in the hands of a major gallery for the benefit of the public.

If Australian art is to be treated in such a manner, it is a wonder that we have

MAIL COUPON FOR THIS UNIQUE OFFER

Subscription Department,	i i dani
The Bulletin,	4.0
Box 4088, G.P.O., Sydney.
Name
Address
Comparison and the second
Please tick whichever is appropri	ate.
Is this a new subscription?	J'or 5.3
A renewal subscription	. 27 478344
Please find enclosed my cheque/ £2/12/-/£1/6/-, being 12 month	money order fo s/6 months sub
scription.	THE PERSON

1968 a good year for students

I could not imagine a Western gov-ernment publishing a paper similar to N. K. "Public Education in the U.S.S.R.

The Soviet Government. The Soviet Government prehensive theories of the action that shall direct the sive Marxist philosophy of its purpose. education. And while I am not blind to the tragdogof irrational ma being glibly foisted upon the young (the same hapthe resulting ov's book. Australia) strength of direction and when it comes to formulat- knows where it is heading purposes and uses of edu- government through the ing educational policy, brings by a comprehensive theory ments. to bear on the problems of of education; its strength in education the comprehen- the field of education lies in ties hit upon a flagrant flaw. It would not be far from

On the other hand I refer the reader to S. E. Frost's "An Introduction to American Education," this is not pens in the Catholic, Sev- a government publication, enth Day Adventist and in order to fully appreciate other religious schools in my comments on Gonchor-

In America and in Austpurpose must be admired. ralia there are lacking comin education; it is guided cation which guide govern- lifetime of the parliament

a makeshift policy to rem- cently ousted Renshaw govedy this, lay it before the ernment, during its the successful party, enact and a pretty feeble care-their policy in a form which taker at that. rarely seems as attractive as it sounded when offered on the hustings.

This, I fear, is the basic mechanism for the shaping of not only educational policy but nearly all governmental policy.

This view has been amply sphere since the 1963 elec-

The government was retwo of which were in the field of education (the science

I shall digress for a moment to comment on the gov- to the state of tertiary edu-ernment's boast that they cation in Australia. have carried out their election promises - it is re- student gets a prettry crumlatively easy to implement a my deal. policy of 5 or 6 policy ineasily implemented;

and ensure that the people in education, quickly devise the truth to describe the revoters at election time, and twelve months in office, as according to the whims of a caretaker government -

> This description is also true of the present federal government - the period of legislative feverishness has passed, its six policy initiatives have been enacted into law, its energy is spent, until after the next election.

We have embarked on a demonstrated in the federal period of executive government during which already Governor-General has been appointed, four books turned on a platform which have been released from the consisted essentially of half banned list, and new boots a dozen policy initiatives, are to be issued to our soldiers in Vietnam.

I defy anyone to refute grant, and new this description of the workforms of financial assistance ings of Australian government, and in the light of this revelation let us turn

All in all, the tertiary

Matriculation students, or itiatives, but so much the at least 20,000 of them, get worse for the platform so £100 living allowance withany out means test, and a £25 political platform worthy of book allowance, if they obthe voter should contain not tain a Commonwealth schol-5. or 6 policy initiatives nor arship; a further 10,000 mat-50 or 60 such initiatives but riculants in N.S.W. would clearly articulated goals in have received like benefits if every field of government Mr Renshaw had been returned in N.S.W.

> Technical students also can receive these living allowances and book allowanc-

In fact, here Australia leads the world in social legislation a 'technical student in full-time employment, irrespective of income, can receive these bene-

Of course, the prudence of the measure is quite another question.

University students can't complain. The present Commonwealth Scholarships system pays the fees of a little under a quarter of presentday tertiary students.

Living allowances paid under the present means test, cost the government an amount a little over the price of a mirage fighter, an amount roughly equal to the Then he enables the lib- salaries of the parliamentarians, the federal judiciary and their staff.

Nor is this going to re-

By 1968 or 1969, the recommendations of the Maring, tin Report will have been implemented, the implelar entertainment for one mentation will be a policy and all. tion platform of both government and opposition.

This means, in effect, the number of Commonwealth Scholarships will be automatically increased in relation to a sliding scale; there will be a book allowance for students on Com-Scholarships monwealth. Maybe 008 will continue to there will be a more liberal

As I said, university studslithers, camouflages himself ents can't really complain, and spins expertly on his it is all explained by the rubber heels - efforts to way Australian governments stop students from distract develop and implement their policies.

"Lolita" readable

An Imaginative and Intelligent Act

Let us not be petty, small-minded and carping: Senator Anderson's decision to remove four novels from the list of imports prohibited by the Department of Customs is an imaginative and intelligent act. He deserves our thanks and commendation for having made it possible for anyone in Australia to read — if he wants to — "Lady Chatterley's Lover," "Lolita," "Borstal Boy" and "Confessions of a Spent Youth."

for stating so firmly that he I would say that public intends to "lean heavily on opinion is more strongly in Censorship Board or by the censorship." Director General of Health.'

present Common is far from ideal, but it is encouraging that Senator Anderson seems to be going to make sensible use of it.

Senator Henty, the previous Minister (who also began his term in this office with liberal intentions) ap parently disregarded the advice of the Board from time to time, especially on controversial issues.

If a committee such as this is to serve any useful purpose it must be able to act in the belief that its recommendations will be treated with respect.

The Minister, of course, has the right to act independently of the Board's advice (indeed it seems from the way in which his statement is worded, that Senator Anderson may have done so in the case of a novel called "Powdered Eggs," by Charles Simmons).

If the new Minister inends in general, however, to be guided by the Board, we may perhaps be able to look forward to a more liberal era in Commonwealth censorship.

At least absurdities like ter. the banning of "Lolita," "Lady Chatterly" and "An-Country" other may be

The Minister is also apthings as "recent trends in Australian and overseas writing and publishing; current peal. attitudes of other countries in particular U.K., U.S.A.

and New Zealand - to contemporary literature of merit liberality. . . (and) the views of perliberal censorship."

Public opinion does count for something: it is pleasant to receive even this rather reluctant acknowledgement of the fact - especially from someone who occupies present office only because, in the first place, he was elected to Parliament by the public.

And let us make no mistake: the acknowledgement IS reluctant.

These, according to Senator, are amongst the factors to which "it appears necessary to give at least some recognition.

We should ask ourselves, I think, whether these things would have been given any recognition at all if "Lady Chatterley's Lover" had not been courageously published in New South Wales by the Minderon Publishing Company and the Council of for Civil Liberties.

In November of last year Senator Anderson was re-

The Minister for Customs ported as saying: "After also should be commended keeping my ear to the ground the expert advice provided favour of more rigid censoreither by the . . . Literature ship than of more liberal

And the statement he made to the Senate about this time reflects this attitude: speakwealth system of censorship ing of applications received from individuals and universities for prohibited works of fiction he announced that "the release of fictional works deemed to be obscene is unwarranted, except in very special circumstances."

> "Lolita" and "Lady Chatterley's Lover" were, one imagines, amongst such works: they, of course, have now been released to the general public.

> Senator Anderson today, it seems, is better informed than he was then "public opinion."

But what an extraordinarily difficult and cumbersome process we have had to go through to inform him.

Writers, publishers, academics and members of the public generally had been protesting against the banning of these books for some

It is surely significant that only the "very special cir-cumstance" of the publication of a banned book had any real effect on the Minis-

The system of Commonwealth censorship remains basically unchanged.

It is a bad system because its implementation depends parently going to take into ultimately on the decisions account from now on such of one man, the Minister and from these decisions there is no real right of ap-

> Senator Anderson has acted, reluctantly, with some

. Another Minister could act sons and organisations ad with even greater stupidity vocating either more or less than some of his predecessors.

> Until the system is changed we can expect further bans as ridiculous as those we are only now seeing re-

YOU CAN'T WIN THEM ALL

When, one of our Horror" sellers was canvassing the public during the Prosh last Saturday he met with a particularly terse reply from one very plebian looking gentleman who yelled out when the seller de-parted: "B-d, why don't you join the army like we

Read and use Woroni classifieds

See Mrs. Mollett S.R.C. Office

The Incredible Mr. Butler

"Hitler's policy was a Jewish policy; it helped further the declared aims of International Jewry, in spite of what Hitler SAID about International Jewry."

Eric D. Butler, National adjust his image to suit his Director of the "Australian audience and to maintain a League of Rights," formed in relatively clean public face. 1960, announced this in his study. The International Jew a The Truth About "The "The New Times"

The aim of Hitler's persetims scattering over the face of the earth to become "emissaries of the German-Jewish doctrine of external authority and regimenta-hope that some of Mr. But. very real. ler's influence can be weakof the facts about him," K Jews and coloured people the Common Market. and is intent on spreading his obnoxious notions. Butler preaches the respect the Crown, private enterpersonal initiative, affairs." white Australia and so on. Then come his less conventional theories. consciously promoted com Communism munism, the New Deal was menta form of communism and - via largely a Communist crea- his League of Rights. tion and is part of the red. -apparatus for world domina-

He goes on to declare that Rumble, the spokesman of "Liberalism, Communism, the Sydney Roman Catholic the worship of material org. Archdiocese, as a "childish anisation and, of course, exhibition of anti-Semitism money, can all be traced to at its worst." the disruptive impact of Jewish thought."

He is now app climax in his reasoning pro- to convict him of anti-

Mr. Butler, "Jewish-inspired ing evidence," socialist movements are It is to be hoped that the making use of the opposi- booklet will circulate widely. tion (to monopoly capital. There is little doubt that it ism) to further the advoc will produce a violent and acy of the worst monopoly revealing controversy. With of all - Government monop any luck it will force Mes-9: olv!"

their goal, Communism. one would expect a pur themselves with his views. veyor of this sort of non- Whichever way it goes, the sense to reach a very limit air will be a little clearer ed audience, and to have in- and the extreme right will significant influence. But Mr. -have lost a little ground. Butler appears to be able to

Thursday, August 5

 $\{G_{i_1,\dots,i_{2n-1}},\dots,G_{i_{2n-1},\dots,i_{2n-1}}\},\dots,\dots,G_{i_{2n-2n-1}}\}$

In Melbourne he produces

fortnightly newspaper, Protocols of Zion," publish- half owner of The Heritage ed soon after the Second Bookshop, which maintains in its stocks violent racist literature and produces circution of the Jews, he con- culars praising for their auth tinued, was to send the vic- ority and value, vicious anti-Semitic pamphlets and books. He also directs the League of Rights.

An aim of the League, says Mr. Gott, is "to influence people who are in a posi-In a pamphlet labelled tion to influence others." In "Voices of Hate" and published by the Melbourne quarterly, "Dissent," "in the the danger of Mr. Butler is

Mr. Killen, M.H.R. ened by making known some Moreton, is a major patron of the Australian League of D. Gott, a Melbourne journ- Rights. He accompanied Mr. alist, has effectively demon- Butler to London on a crustrated that Mr. Butler hates sade to keep Britain out of

Norman Banks, the bourne radio and TV com To gain an audience and mentator and interviewer perhaps from conviction, Mr. has described Mr. Butler as a "dear friend" and gives able doctrines of anti-com- him time on air to propamunism, loyalty to God and gate his views, as an "experon Communism and world

A number of clergymen also support Mr. Butler, at rentional theories. tracted by his claim to be a He says F. D. Roosevelt Christian crusader against

This booklet demonstrates effectively the anti-Semitic United Nations was character of Eric Butler and

His most vicious "The International Jew," has described by Dr been

The fact that Mr. Butler has never repudiated the con-tents of this book is enough cess. Semitism Mr. Gott has pro-condition "Ironically enough," writes duced plenty of corroborat-srs. Killen and Banks to Thus the Jews achieve either publicly dis-own Mr. heir goal, Communism. Butler or fully associate

- ROBERT LEHANE

What a welcomed asset the G.S.L. has acquired! Have you seen him (what a question), lurking behind bookstacks, under tables, inside carelles and in other conceivable position?

Don't for one minute think you can outsmart him, 008 works stealthily sneaking up unsuspecting students and then revealing himself quite brazenly, black book in hand.

008, a former Viet Cong fighter, has, I believe, a multiple role. First he mcre than compensates for his wages by his smart detection of library property leaving the library legally and illegally.

rary to buy many most necessary works of worth from the revenue made possible by fines resulting from his superhuman detection of main static. all possible misdemeanours committed by the unsuspect-

At present there is reported to be widespread speculation as to the side effects

Budding psychologists say that there appears to be no evidence whatever to suggest that there is any link between 008 and smoking, drinking, juvenile delinquents or anything else.

enthral us for whole morn means test in connection ings, afternoons or evenings with living allowances. as he patrols, creeks, crawls, ing others - then study.

http://nla.gov.au/nla.news-page16008086

National Library of Australia

FINE AND PRIVATE PLACE

The old man was buried. Swaying back on his heels, For some the experience was he rocked out waves of conprofound. They said the fidence. rosary.

in a decimated string of fellow-suffering, they tossed were broken and old.

Since he was a boy, the ola man had been well preof cemeteries.

His plot had almost al- death. ways, been fixed in the frequently.

last, a model of restraint. The grandson stood back gingerly amongst the broken gravel and headstones. pot-sherds and glassed flowments and dwarfted pines . . .

Those with a sense of pool accent. scene were suitably affected.

breathed. "Biessed is the thought it significant. fruit of thy womb . ." they was facing up to his intoned. "Amen," they reponsibilities. They hand peated. "Give us this day the torch of life, a count of life, our daily bread . . ." they sighed. "And lead us not ... " they rejected.

"Blessed is the fruit of Thy womb," mentioned his daughter in law pointedly. "Virgin of virgins, Mother of Christ, Comforter of the oppressed," she thought blankly desired to

_All was religion.

"Our Father," deliberated his son - the most he could human."

municated thoughts unutterable: all around the ring they went, converged on the centre, scraped on the gravel, searched for the grave but it was buried.

The pool of words gathered in the centre. Each took. from it the meaning that foot. There was a hundred The rain eased, and a pine suited his palate.

For the priest, a message

He had just consigned a Strung out on the ground soul to the Kingdom.

This one thing was sure His solitary heart swelled towards the ground, the slow lane of traffic. His son or tumbled the tiny sound- for love of all the souls he ing prayers from lip to lip, had and would help save,
The graves all around gave thanks for his vocation and position in time, and cried out for a cup of tea.

The old man's surviving pared for death in the shape friend stood with bald head, shivering and catching his

He had outlived them all, books, reserved and marked won all his bets, now he had like. I have to go into the joining the swing of the out and trodden on very in- seen his last contact with reality or familiarity screw-The old prayers were a ed down and shovelled unrelief for the reminiscence der and he stood with his ing graveyard; the suitably bald head in the wind and quiet and ugly funeral, its the rain, catching his death and (though sadly in the from the head of the grave. vernacular) ceremony, the He looked at the age and little rosary circle standing the weeds around him, the

And he listened to a tune ers, surrounded by monu- in his head. He almost by whistled it - "Life goes on day after . . . ," in a Liverene were suitably affected. He was not being irreve-"Hail Mary . . !" they rent. It wasn't that. He was facing up to his resthe torch of life, a challenge.

"... and of the Holy alone." Ghost, Amen."

And that was that. Almost. "Thank you, Father," "Please accept my sym-

"Oh, thank you, Father, it coming to morning tea. pathies Mrs., Mr. .. was beautiful."

"I feel . . . much more human in the English."

"You will have a chance to rest now."

The communicants, com-, "He was never a great from Marcia, Harry, Terry trouble to us." "We were sad to see him their darling. He laughed.

"It had to come." "And soon."

"Yes, soon."

The gravel grated under yard walk to the car.

Back at the graveside, for- planted grave. gotten and forgetting, an As usual, the son had cupied by her father-in-law "Thy kingdom come . . ." old bald head bent vacantly trouble getting into the first,

a short story by RICHARD RAPER grave, the past.

"Would you like to come the gates of the graveyard. home for a nice cup of tea, Mr. Jones?

have to go home now."

ing. ily off."

"No, out of your way, I'll future.

raining." "Well, I'll take a bus."

far out of the way." himself, broken winded and fluffy. flailing. His retreat was se- Once the woman thought

"Poor old thing." "Where does he live?" "I don't know."

"Good thing I didn't have had managed. to take him, I'm late as it work to bury his father). "He probably wants to be

They had done their duty

A few offered condolences , and some left. A couple were

The grandson stood before a toeless, headless, frustrated victory, straining heavenwards, dirt and run-

"Yes, the ceremony is very nels in the plaster folds of her drapery. Cracked; grassy concrete and Mary on the loss of

> A little desecration from mum: "Come on, we're gonig. We'll go without you."

They wouldn't, but he ran, The sacred place was left. needle fell on the new-looked back eventually at

As grey and dirty as before. The wrought-iron gat-"Eh? No, thank you, dear. es were heavy and rusting, and already closed.

"Yes, you'll be needing a A sudden presumptuous rest after such a long morn-ing." thought that they might never close on him (?) was "I'll give you a lift if you effectively squashed by their office after I drop the fam- traffic around the corner and off into the negative Morning tea was a bright "But you can't walk, it's little affair. The guests were cousins with whom they never quarelled.

So the taxi. He hailed it and came out soft and cure though God knows he of the old man. Not when couldn't afford a bloody taxi. she was told how fine and fortitudinous she had been in her looking after him and was asked however she

Then she merely said: "He is." (He was a clerk and was never a great problem ponsibilities. They hand on had taken two hours off for me. Except at the end. He was so helpless."

"But the work must have been hard for you."

"He did keep me busy. I'm sure I won't know what to do with myself now. I always had something to do." "You must go out more sure I wouldn't know where to go."

"You could come to my bridge circle. Every Thursday. We need a fifth and you'll love the girls. I think you know Pat Archbrough."

"She married Tony Archbrough, didn't she?"

"Yes, that's right."

"She was such a pretty

And so, almost unconsciously, as she was wont to refresh her blood stream, replacing the wasted cells with new ones, that part of her system that had been ocshe renewed with fresh diversions, some more taxing hanging over the mantel. In around the brown walls, on his capacity as father of the the brown carpet, under the groom, the old man was brown ceiling, stopping at there represented.

Once she almost thought of him. She might have the way. thought-of him.

Tall, bluff and balding he glared at the camera.

She had not seen it in She reached an ash tray on the mantel top of the nicely browned With everyone now. He repiece. She looked straight scones and butter and jam. membered him. Buried this into the eyes. The eyes that had avoided hers from the pillow only yesterday. She gazed vacantly on.

There was no recognition, nothing in that strong, middle aged stare to remind her, nothing to stop her, no How did he sound?" hint or exclamation of the old man whose trembling and gluey eyes had so disgusted her. And so she did not see. And picked up the ash tray. And passed on.

minded. And that not for long. It was only a cup of tea. It was pouring the tea.

She spilt a bit in her own

She poured it into the sink and washed it out. As swilled around.

est brown as it swilled in the financial new-year." the saucer.

his last weak, deathly weak good to all their employees cup of tea. Slurped from the but Fred's getting an exsaucer.

The trembling, downy, en- course he's worth it all, tirely pitiable lips searching Even better." the edge of the saucer.

She felt sick and leaned able boy." on the sink. He had said it "Well, he's got a very level was too strong. He almost head." said it was too strong - but he always said so and she head." understood.

He had always said "the dam tea's too strong!" or "Ah, but he's got to keep "please, please, dear, don't at it." make my tea so strong!"

Only she would under- to the bank." tand. The white chafed fin- "God," thought the grand-"I've got time, it can't be. The son left early and the stand. The white chafed finar out of the way." scones were easily warmed gers with the monstrously tea into his saucer.

a heavy burden. An incom- older. ders. The ugliness and at him.
warmth of it surged and "He seems to be working broke in her and she felt very quite weak.

ness whirled and washed you are doing well at school. into the drains, into the gut- aren't you, dear?" ters, into the ocean, out of her life. She picked up the tray and walked, strode to work in the bank?" into the brown living room.

To her son: "Take the blab, blab, blab . . . scones around dear. Little His mouth almost "I would like to - but I'm Janice'll have one and your He wanted to open his anything" on her words, words. haveplate."

The grandson stuck his nervously and clumsily rect and set right. breaking in on the impos- He felt red with sible conversations. glanced at him sullenly, versation, pleasant smiled at him vacantly, took correct. from him greedily, passed him on gratefully. empty. He went to the kit- floundering and silent.

chen. He found some scones and buttered them, all traces of his mother's crisis having vanished, went back to the lounge room, eating one on

. It was time for another A wedding picture was round. He did his ugly dance the brown furniture, smiling at the brown people, living out his brown past. It was better than school. ant. . The warm brown tea settled in his He sat down and settled morning. back and vegetated amongst the superior, vaguely interesting conversation.

"Had a letter from Fred the other day.'

"Oh, how nice for you,

"He said he'd had a little tummy trouble for a while, but it's settling down now." "Where is he exactly?"

"It's a very small town, Once only she was re- almost right on the border, any-time before that Called Ondinga . . . I think it's pronounced like that." "And how's his work?"

"Oh, he's very pleased. saucer. Only a drop. She When they shifted him, they spilt it from the pot. It was gave him a rise. And he's got a more responsible posi-it sat in the saucer it tion. It's not exactly a promotion but he's really the Only a little bit. And it manager's assistant and he's was weak. It was the light- sure he'll be promoted in

"Oh, how nice for him." The day before Only the "Yes, the bank's very day before. The old man; good to him. They're very tra good run from them. Of

"Yes, Fred's such a cap-always keeps his

"Yes."

"Pity he isn't here now."

"He seems quite dedicated gers with the monstrously son, "Good old Fred. Bludgclean nails tugging so im- ing in some filthy little potently as she poured the town. Great ugly bastard." They had been kids togeth-Such an ugly child. Such er. Fred was two years petent nurse and all the . "I suppose you can't wait weight on her brown shoul- to leave school?" They threw hard lately, always locked in his room. I'm sure She turned the cold tap I don't know what he's on full and the pale sick- really up to all the time. But

"Grunt."

"Do you think you'd like "He can't wait to: start,

His mouth almost opened. Aunt Meg doesn't seem to mouth to blurt outawords, Reason and explain to them. Sentences there, right hand in his pocket and behind his teeth waiting to picked up the plate. Slowly come out, to swell and he paraded around the room, drown and impress, to cor-

He felt red with frustration as they all swelled in-Sometimes a face, some- side him; perfect words, ag-. times a hat or a hair-do, recable words, bright con-

But as always the moment had passed and he was He came back to his own stranded on a new shore, place and the plate was new subject, unprepared and

And the good conversationalists snapped out their iron words, close on the heels of the last sentence, the primitive jamming stutter fast in between them, disconneceting it from any meaning that might follow.

He was absurd. But only he knew it, thank God. To the rest he was just quiet, reserved, smiling, laughing sometimes, almost un-noticeable, certainly unimport-

This was all so familiar.

Almost his only friend amongst adults that is, the Old Man.

The Oldest Man. Not that the death had meant much to him before this.

Only now he knew what should have been obvious before, that he did not know at the graveside, that he did not know during the Old Man's life the day before nor

There was a day. At sunset. Winter and all rugged up. A street of stripped trees and the bright bleeding sunset all through the white

(Continued on Page 11)

Management of the Australian Nation University Union

HIRING OF UNION PREMISES

The Board of Management of the Australian National University Union would like to announce the following policy with regard to the hiring of Union premises:

During normal Union hours all areas available for hire will be FREE to groups of Union members, i.e., clubs and societies. After Union hours (i.e., after 11.00 p.m., Monday to Friday and during weekends as detailed below) the following hiring charges will apply to groups of Union members and no other area shall be hirable during term time.

Area	Groups of U. Mem. (Societies & Clubs)				Other approved bodies
	Day	11pm-iam	Day	Night	Day	Night
Refectory (Gr. Floor)	N.A.*	£4.0.0	N.A.	£5.0.0	N.A.	£12.0.0
Dining Room (1st Floor)	N.A.	£3.0.0	N.A.	£4.0.0	N.A.	£6.0.0
Coffee Room (1st Floor)	N.A.	£2.0.0	N.A.	£3.0.0	N.A.	£4.0.0
Meetings Room (L. Gr. Fl.)	Free	0.0.12	N.A.	23.0.0	N.A.	£4.0.0

Rooms other than those listed above shall be available for hire at the Secretary's discretion only in exceptional circumstances. In such a case the following charges shall apply:

Area	Groups of U. Mem. (Societies & Clubs)				bodies
	Day	11pm-lam	Day	Night -	Day	Night
Games Room (for table ten. and bil. tournaments only)	Free	Free	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.
Societies Room (for Uni. Societies only)	Free	" "Free "	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.	N.A.
Other Rooms as required	Free	Free	At cost	£3.0.0	At cost	At cost
Coffee Room (Gr. Floor)	N.A.	£2.0,0	. N.A	£2.10.0	N.A.	At cost make it Union policy that members must be complete due to the necessity for expensive- weekend cleaning, Sunday functions be avoided if possible and in case of Saturday functions a penalty rate be applied.

The penalty rate will be £2 per student function irrespective of the location of the premises hired and of the hiring charges for the period

Other than student bodies will be charged for Saturday use at cost plus.

The Board also resolved floor servery that the top may be used by Societies at the discretion of the Secretstaff for the supervisory duration of the function for which the use of the servery is unavoidable.

It must be noted that of Union members

All functions must end by comes necessary.

It was further decided to 1 a.m., and the cleaning. by 2 a.m.

> A penalty rate of £1 each hour or part of an hour shall be charged if the clean against eventual damage. ing of the premises by the Past experience has shown

For the information of is substantial. members, it must be noted Union of Saturday use two floors is £21/17/2 if tions. Union staff, can be employ-than 8 p.m. inaterm time ary on condition of paying and during vacation any de purpose of holding a social for the wages of special viation from the above—is-function. subject to the Secretary's approval.

As it is obvious from the £15. tables shown above, groups: (Studthere are many items of ex- ents' Societies' and Clubs) pensive equipment in this are only charged for their the premises were found area which must be safe use of the premises after in good order after a function guarded, such as the espress hours when keeping staff on tion, the deposit will be reduty for longer hours, be funded in full.

> The Australian National University Union

ELECTION TO THE UNION BOARD the question of responsibili-OF MANAGEMENT

I hereby give notice that an election will be held on WEDNESDAY, 4th AUGUST, 1965

THURSDAY, 5th AUGUST, 1965 FRIDAY, 6th AUGUST, 1965

to fill three seats on the Board of Management of the Union.

Voting will take place close to the main Ellery Circuit entrance in the Union Building between the hours of 9 a.m. and 7 p.m., on all days of the election. Details of eligibility and of voting procedure contained in the Union Electoral Rules are available from my office on request. The following candidates have been nominated stand at the election :-

G. HAVAS K. LISNERS

G. McCREADY

R. I. L. RODWELL

E. C. de TOTTH Union Secretary Returning Officer

17th July, 1965.

Thursday, August 5

١	£2.10.0	N.A.	At cost
ру	This in	no way	reimburses
ed	the Union	for oth	er expendi-
2017	ture conn	ected w	ith a funcor	tion and	does not	safeguard
ur	the prem	ises or	property

users is not completed by 2 that the rate of such damage directly related to a function

Such repairs will have to that the actual cost to the be paid from the yearly of amount of Union subscrip-

ed and near to £30 if em to safeguard against such ployment of casual staff is damage by imposing a de financial information posit of £10 on any group of Night use of the premises members for hiring any of may commence not earlier the dining and coffee service areas of the Union for the

> Other organisations will be cuired to pay a deposit of

Cost of damages caused during the function shall be deductible from this amount.

tion, the deposit will be re-

The deposit will be payable at the Union Office at least one clear day before the commencement of a function.

The Board also dealt with ty of any group of users of

It resolved that "clubs and societies hiring a section of Light and power the Union premises be held Auditing responsible for discipline at Union premises and/or damage to Union property during the period of their occupan-

The above responsibility ing stipulations:

(i) During hours (9 a.m. -11 p.m.) the occupiers' rehired area physically oc-

(ii) After hours the oc-

(iii) Provided that more have to be paid from this ac-hours, the individual hiring groups be solely responsible for the area they hired or occupied and all other accessible areas of the Union will be subject to join responsibility of all hirers at any given time."

IMPROVEMENTS TO UNION PREMISES

The Board resolved to approach the University asking for a series of adjustments and improvements to the building to improve working efficiency of the ser vices to be run by the Union.

THE UNION CELLAR The Board approved appointment of Mr. S. Ancher, the architect of building, as architect of the proposed Union Cellar. Detailed plans and costing is now being prepared.

GENERAL MEETING OF THE UNION

The general meeting of the Union held on July 8, 1965 approved the Electoral Rules. The machinery has set to work immediately and the first Union elections will be held between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Wednesday, 4th Thursday 5th and Friday 6th August, with polling taking place close to the main ent rance of the Union.

All members interested in Union affairs are requested to come along and vote at this election.

The Board also considered the recommendation of the general meeting to install a contraceptive vending mach ine and resolved to take no action, noting that the sale of contraceptives is restricted by ordinance to licensed pharmacies.

Further, the Board adopt ed the recommendation of the general meeting by can celling parking reservations in front of the Union except for the cars of the Union Secretary, the Doctor and the Catering Supervisor.

Much criticism has been levelled at the management of the Union in recent The Board thought it fair months and so in the interests of informed debate, this been published,

THIS WEEK IN THE UNION

MONDAY, AUGUST 2: Women's Hockey Club — Meeting — Committee Room —

TUESDAY, AUGUST 3:

Newman Society - Mass - Meetings Room - 12 noon -1 p.m.

Choral Society — Rehearsals — Meetings Room — 7.15 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4:

UNION ELECTION - POLLING - MAIN ENTRANCE 9 a.m. - 7 p.m.

Newman Society — Mass — Meetings Room — 12 noon - 1 p.m.

Meeting - Meetings Room - 1 p.m. - 2 p.m. Evangelical Union — Discussion Group — Committee Rm. 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.

5.R.C. - Meeting re Freedom from Hunger Campaign -Committee Room - 7.45 p.m. - 11 p.m. A.N.U. Cricket Club — Meeting — Meetings Room -

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5:

8 p.m. - 9 p.m.

UNION ELECTION - POLLING - MAIN ENTRANCE 9 a.m. - 7 p.m.

Newman Society — Mass — Meetings Room — 12.10 p.m. - 1 p.m.

Evangelical Union - Public Address - Meetings Room 1 p.m. - 2 p.m. Sports Council — Meeting — Committee Room — 7.30 p.m.

- 11 p.m. Newman Society — General Meeting — Meetings Room 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6:

UNION ELECTION - POLLING - MAIN ENTRANCE 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. Newman Society — Mass — Meetings Room — 12 noon

- 1 p.m. Choral Society - Rehearsal - Meetings Room - 1 p.m.

- 2 p.m. Film Society — Annual General Meeting — Committee

Room — 1.10 p.m. - 1.45 p.m. Church of England — University Group Meetings Room - 5 p.m. - 6 p.m.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7: END OF TERM.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 8: No booking.

MONDAY, AUGUST 9: No booking.

FUESDAY, AUGUST 10:

Women's Hockey Club - Dance - First Floor and Servery — 8 p.m. - 12 midnight.

with the west still THURSDAY, AUGUST 12: Sailing Club — General Meeting — Meetings Room — 7.30 p.m. - 10.30 p.m.

AUGUST 23 to AUGUST 27: Inter-Australia Library Conference.

300

AUGUST 20 to AUGUST 23: Take over from Burton Hall. MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6: Third Term commences.

UNION FINANCE.

The following budget figures show the anticipated tables, radiograms, etc.). financial position of the Union in 1965:

General Account INCOME Fees (full time, part time and other ____ 13,082

Interest on moneys 100 Sundry other income Total income . EXPENDITURE Current Expenditure -Administration: Wages, 1 clerk, 3 porters Office expenses Staff superannuation 200 180 Porters' uniforms Pay Roll Tax Sundries will be subject to the follow. Maintenance of plant, furniture, etc. (provision account) sponsibility is limited to the cupied.

Contingencies

cupiers' responsibility is extended to cover all accesbe kept open solely for the

than one group occupies count, parts of the building after The Total Administration (Please note that the salary of the Secretary and his Secretarial Assistant is paid from a special University subvention and are not charged against the fee income). Cleaning services Activities including grants to clubs Other provisions including newspapers, election expenses, Union cards, etc. ... Anticipated refectory loss in 1965 Replacements (provision account) Total expenditure BUDGETED LOSS Capital Account: Income from Entrance Fees

1,500 2,000 17,375 3,893

1,000

sible parts of the Union Please note that all capital rance fee income is building which is deemed to expenditure for new items. ed at £7,785.

improvements and the deficit The Cellar project alone purpose of the hirers' func from the current account would absorb this entrance within the Union, etc., will fee income in full.

Other capital expenditure already purchased during The total anticipated ent- the year is over £1,000. (Billiard tables, table tennis

Although it is likely that the University will help the Union bridge this difficult financial situation as far as trading loss in the refectory is concerned and considering the fact that during 1965 the already received Union direct subventions in capital expenditure to the value of over £3,000, it is obvious that the Union cannot undertake added financial responsibility to cover various aspects of group functions held in the building.

CORRECTION

In the July 22 issue Woroni, the third paragraph of the Chairman's letter contained a printing error.

The text suggested that "it is proposed to have a real 2,900 service available in the Union ce ellar

No doubt the service will be real but what should have, 400 been printed is "MEAL SERVICE."

FOR ALL STUDENTS' STATIONERY

★ Fountain Pens

* Exercise Books

★ Loose Leaf Folders

★ Slide Rules

GAREMA PLACE CANBERRA CITY

Lord Casey, G.G.

The announcement last week of the new Governor General for Australia was greeted enthusiastically by most political commentators as the best choice that could have been made. The choice of Lord Casey certainly pleased those who were fiercely advocating an Australian for the post.

mentators meant was that to a few years ago a very he fulfilled all the necessary prominent man in Australfeatures and qualifications ian politics - too prominent that the Governor-General really. is supposed to have.

The duties of Governor- Affairs he reached the General are arduous ones height of his power and but relatively straight for- prestige. ward ones.

He is rarely called upon ment of great consequence, definitely a political figure. However, for this reason The G-Gship, completes tion and judgment.

Casey, although in general ing decisions.

It is more than extreme- scene. ly likely that Casey will have term of office.

as Governor General that position to Prime Minister. Menzies retires or gives up Liberal Party Leadership.

successor is Harold Holt, but of the office is due to the John McEwan, who has been holder alone. willing to remain subordinate under Menzies is un- long time to display his

It is conceivable that Mc- just one term of duty. Ewan may pull out of the coalition, leaving Australian for none of the three paralone, and even a double ward for good service to the dissolution may not solve this problem.

The action taken by the Governor General will be decisive and important with great consequences.

Lord Casey is best, in that he conforms so well to the accepted requirements for a Governor General.

He is a distinguished personage, a conservative, is politically astute and what his pockets and nothing on should have been words but is more important is both an Australian and an Anzac, as he was an engineer in the original landing at Gallipon a stick, not yet sick, yet sun went down warm and What more could be asked for in the post. Menzies has done a Mc-Kell in appointing Lord Casey to the Governor Gen-

Establishment of a Research School

The Acting Vice-Chancellor of the Australian National University, Profesnounced yesterday that the Commonwealth Government has agreed to provide funds for the establishment of a Research School of Chemistry in the Institute of Advanced Studies of the University.

Sir Hugh also announced that two foundation Chairs in the new school had been accepted by distinguished Australian chemists at present working in Britain.

They are Professor A. J. Birch, F.R.S., who has accepted the Chair of Organic Chemistry and Professor D P. Craig, who has accepted the Chair of Physical and man gasped to the ground he Chair of Physical and man gasped to the ground a good boy." and he stood and he sto Mum!" (he should have "The new Research School and they held a desperate screamed). Theoretical Chemistry.

conversation of silence, a "Yes, mum," Oh. The conversation of gasps from glorious kinship gone. Stride Him and silence, after a to the latest will contribute significantly conversation of silence, a towards advanced chemical development in Australia," Him and silence, after a to the kitchen. Purpose while from him.

What the political com- For Lord Casey was, up

As Minister for External

He is certainly closely identified with, one side of to make a political judg- politics in Australia and is it is an advantage for the for Casey a circle which incumbent to possess a little Menzies started for him five more than an elementary years ago, when he became amount of political discre- a strong challenger for Liberal Party leadership.

Rather than risk a power a good administrator, has struggle Menzies presented shown himself on several him with Barony and effecoccasions incapable of mak- tively dismissed him from the Australian political

Now in an attempt to ease one of the most important his conscience or to give decisions yet to face a Gov- himself a benevolent image ernor-General, during his Menzies has given Casey the G-Gship, which still re-It will be within his time mains a vastly sub-ordinate

There is no real criteria for judging the post of Gov-The obvious choice for his ernor General. What is made

Casey is bound to have a likely to do the same under qualities, for he is unlikely to abandon the post after

The question raised by Casey's appointment politics in a state of flux, whether the Governor Generalship is now to change ties will be able to govern its pattern and become a recountry in politics or some Probably six months be-him, down the hill now.

old man stared.

finally he did it. He turned and offered his arm. The Much taller than the boy.

reached over and grabbed and slowly reversed and the came over him and the old

arm. He nearly fell.

shoulders.

It took a little while but ed.

an almost palsied hand yard.

his mind.

When is a stunt a stunt and not a The answer seems to lie in that hazy area of a policeman's mind. This is quite clearly not a suitable state of affairs for either students or the community at

There should be a clear principle that all, or nearly line of distinction by which all, student activity is evil means this question can be and hence criminal. effectively answered.

But how can such a dis- eous. tinction be arrived at?

down by statute hence. it tute a stunt which either do must be laid down by prac- or do not go to constitute a tice.

At present the police seem

At first he had made the

had been thought better of softened, diffused and blunt-

Self-contained in his hard backed brown chair, he saw his grandfather as he had not been, moulded a new keened inside his head (the

As far as he was concern-

the blood or the semen but in the graveyard, or in the

"Any more scones in the

"Have a look then, there's

A Fine and Private

Place - Cont'd.

fore. He with his hands in usual unready grunts that Nothing except the old as they came to the throat.

Breathing, breathing up Inside the brown room

the hill. It got heavier. He and conversation the bleed-had to slow down and look ing sunset dripped again;

Gruffly. He was still tall, image out of an old and ed, stumbled forward a few the loss of himself, six feet paces. The boy caught up, under in an antique grave-and breathed hard on his ed kinship came not from

The old man was bowed, the eyes. Ask him there in

Now and only now the boy bleeding sunset) and he

(at first turned in) slowly he prepared to die.

eager boy caught and held kitchen, dear?" the gaze and the warmth "Don't know."

resolved.

Bent and saggy at the the living room (not before, folding.

man breathing behind him But they stilled. And the

But this is entirely erron-

There are several clear cut It certainly will not be laid elements which go to consti-

> The purpose of a stunt can be either general or particular, e.g., to publicise Bush Week or to poke fun at something with the particular intent, that some remedial action should be taken.

Sometimes, of course, no line can be drawn between a stunt and a crime. However, if the method used is blatant and clearly not the work of a professional criminal, then this is a stunt and not a crime.

Put yourself in the place of a policeman and this will become clearer.

Imagine that you surprise students engaged in some unlawful act which is part of a stunt.

around. For he was behind the colours and temperature Most stunts involve very little inconvenience to the general public.

This is the hallmark of a good stunt.

However, if a stunt involves such inconvenience that much money is lost or people's lives are endangered it cannot be tolerated and should be treated as a crime. Lastly, damage should be considered.

If an act, out of a Bush Week type context, would be a crime, unless some nullify ing action is taken then the fact that damage is or is not caused becomes very import was stronger. As he lowered would tell you he had re-We suggest that there is a the old man on to the grass ceived the message of life clear dividing line between he met the eyes and he in the glance of his granda crime and a stunt. stared into them, and they father, his grandfather as

The first should be punish and shrugged off.

It seems senseless for the police to haul high-spirited students into court over these very trivial matters. Hence we feel sure that a more liberal attitude by the police towards student activities would result in far greater harmony and less stupidity.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEM ENTS

8D. PER LINE: 61- PER COL. INCH, SEMI-DISPLAYED STUDENTS: FIRST 3 LINES FREE, THEN 4D. PER LINE CLUBS: FIRST INCH FREE, THEN 3' PER INCH

Lost

GREY JUMPER on Wednes-Meetings Room, Union Bldg. Would finder please hand it in to S.R.C. office or ring A. Achdiat, tel. 81 3606.

Wanted

BOOKS, magazines, periodicals etc. are required for our adopted college at Vuvu in Papua/New Guinea. Anything from text books, newsmagazines, women's magazines and Reader's Digests would be most welcome. Donations should be left at the S.R.C. Office.

CONTRIBUTIONS for Purge, a magazine for articles, poems and short stories on any subject. All contribu-tions to Rosy Crossly, Bruce Hall, or Helen Moore, C/-English Department. Con-stant sublimation of the urge to Purge equals constipa-

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Students, Clubs and Societies use this page to advertise your activities. Classifications include Personal, Lost and Found, For Sale, Wanted to Buy, Posi-tions Wanted, Positions Vacant, Entertainments. Public Announcements, Special Rates Students: First three lines free then fourpence per line. Figure Four average words to a line.

Classifieds Call tween 10.00 and 3.00 Monday through Friday. Phone 41818.

For Sale

AUSTIN A40, 1951, excellent day, July 21, at 10.30 p.m. in condition, best offer accepted as owner is leaving Australia. All enquiries to John Kebes, Room 257, Coombes Bldg. or after hours at Uni. House.

> HONDA 250, super sports motor cycle, new Oct. 64, one owner, 1,400 miles, £190. or £30 and take over terms. Tel. 4 6176 or call at 53 Tyson Street, Ainslie.

HILLMAN MINX, 1936, registered in A.C.T. till 21st January, 1966, goes well, cheap at £50. Contact V. T. Batterham at Mulwala Hse., Room M2 during evening or ring 72351, ext. 237 during

Public Lectures

EDUCATION IN CHINA PAST AND PRESENT A talk by Professor: C. P. Fitzgerald at the Canberra High School at 8.30 p.m. on Monday, 9th August, 1965.

Notice

APPLICATIONS are called for the position of Editor of 8-page edition of WORONI in third term (late: September). Information about printing, etc., and guidance in setting out the paper will be supplied where necessary. Address application to the Secretary, Students' Association and leave at the S.R.C. office before the end of August.

ANGLICAN Holy Commun-ion Service: Meetings Room, Union Building, every Friday at 5 p.m.

University Announcements

THE AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY School of General Studies

ANNUAL EXAMINATION AND PAYMENT OF THIRD TERM FEES

Closing Date For Entries -

Each candidate for the Annual Examinations, 1965, must lodge his entry form, completed, at the Student Administration Office on or before 12 noon, Saturday, August 7, 1965.

Any candidate who has not received an entry form by post should call, immediately, at the Student Administration Office.

Late Applications

A late fee of £3 will be levied if an entry form is accepted after August 7, 1965.

Date Of Examinations -

The Annual Examinations will commence on Monday, November 8, 1965.

A candidate who cancels a subject or unit August 7, 1965, may be deemed to have failed in that

Third Term Fees —

Due Date: September 3, 1965.

Students are reminded that third term fees must ed, the second laughed at be paid on or before Friday, September, 3, 1965.

A statement of account will be forwarded to all students, with outstanding fees, during the week ending July 30, 1955. Where outstanding fees are not paid by the due date, late fees will be imposed.

good vinit, dark C. G. PLOWMAN - HARSTINGSON Registrar 72,27 School of General Studies

Men's Hockey

The "A" grade side this year has met with limited success after a brilliant start to the season in drawing with last years premiers. Central.

An influx of forestry players helped build the team into a formidable combinaation.

Since then and especially since Intervarsity in May (hic) the performances of the team have dropped considerably.

Also, an injury to the captain, George Meehan, led to his retirement (?) for the

A lack of interested people led to a depleted team for IV but a rort was had in Sydney even if the team lost every match.

George Meehan was selected in the A.C.T. team to go to Scone for the State Championships and Ian Gossip, Chris Rawlinson, Trevor Butcher and Bruce Aitchison were selected in the Under 21 side.

This shows a higher standard of Uni. hockey, in the number of A.C.T. reps., which is very good to see. - C.S.R.

Aussie Rules 2nds UNI. v. TURNER

This was an interesting and hard-fought out game. Play opened at a fast pace with both sides desperately trying to get on top.

It was only well into the last quarter that Turner, aided by some loose and foolish play on the Uni. backline, gained the ascendancy and got home by three goals.

Geoff Pryor played his ever reliable game at fullback and was ably supported by Terry Chamberlain as centre half back.

Roger Pescott and Vic Bannon also deserve praise for the way they fought out the game until the final siren.

John Darling, although pitted against a strong opponent, performed well and initiated many attacks.

It was pleasing to see Bruce McPherson turn out with the team.

Although obviously a little out of condition, he always tried to lift the forward division. Thanks Bruce!

Best players: Pryor, Pes cott, Reece, Chamberlain,

A.N.U. DOWN TO AINSLIE

. The Uni's game was completely different from the week before when we downed Acton so convincingly.

There was very little or no teamwork and many players showed little willingness to go in for the ball. If Uni. had played as they did in the second quarter they would have won the game but one quarter is not enough.

Uni. registered the first goal through Vic Price but Ainslie then seized the initiative and kicked five goals. In the second quarter with Rod Gilholme playing peak.

Thursday, August 5

Week sees new sports

all over the Ainslie captaincoach, Norm Neeson, Nick Meagher on the wing and the A.N.U. came to within 7 points of Ainslie.

Then the third quarter was their downfall. This could have been the after effects of Bush Week as many . players looked exremely pale.

The fourth quarter was much the same except for a few goals at the end of the quarter.

The Ainslie score might have been much larger ex-cept for the good playing of old Geelong Grammarians John Darling, Roger Pescott and Linton Ritchie.

In all, a bad display after showing such promise and we look forward to killing Manuka next week.

Scores: Ainslie 16-9-105 defeated University 10-7-67. Goals for Uni .: McLeod, Price and Larkin 3 each, Bradshaw 1.

Best players: Garnaut, Darling, Price, Meagher and Jelbart.

Inter-Hall Comp.

Yesterday afternoon, in an unusual mid - week game, Lennox House defeated Bruce Hall 13-0 in the inter-hall comp. at university oval.

The game was far from tators stuck bravely till the end. But it is an indication of the positions in the interhall comp.

Lennox now stands firm favourites for the finals but are expected to encounter some stiff competition.

Mike Peedom expects to lead his strong Lennox team to further victory, the heavy pack of forwards is formid able and the backs are swift and hard to catch.

This combination over-ran Bruce Hall despite Bruce's fast wings and centres.

The final is expected to bring a good crowd and bring inter-hall rivalry to a

The last week University students under-Ross Garnaut is the centre took exciting adventuring in some breathtaking and spectacular sports. Burtonians discovered the thrills of fording a creek swollen with the winter rains and Lennoxians sampled the latest thrill in narcotics, which, when added to beer, produce an odd singing

Women's Hockey

The women's hockey teams are proving themselves to be a very dominant force in the A.C.T. competition.

The first team is at the top of the ladder in "A" grade, having lost no matches. The wins are normally by a large margin.

Last Saturday we beat Barton II, 10-0. The best players have been Jane Little, Kerry Gulson and Jane Woodrow.

Uni. II is also the dominant team in "B" grade, having lost one match, 3-2 to Waratahs, last Saturday.

The wins here are also normally by large margins. It has been a complete team effort as no players have consistently shown.

The Edwards sisters proving themselves to be formidable goalies as neither yet has had 10 goals scored against her.

The 3rds have met with mixed success.

Next Monday and Tuesday, August 9 and 10, a Combined New Zealand women's hockey team is being billeted and played by us. The match is to be held on go. Tuesday morning at 11 a.m. at Uni. Oval.

Spectators are welcome and needed to boost the morale of both representative teams.

From August 19 to 27, a representative team will be in Melbourne for I.O. It should be a week of good hockey and socialising.

Aussie Rules 2nds UNI. v. AINSLIE

Down by 5 points to the competition leaders. This result was a little disappointing.

A little more concentration and steadiness and we could have knocked them off their pedestal by three or four goals.

But we are not going to win games until the forward line opens up.

Man for man, we were as good as Ainslie, if not bet-

The good work of the backs (again) and centre line invariably went to waste because a Uni. forward was battling against two of the opposition.

Both firsts and seconds should take notice of this as it is not stressed as much as it should be.

Your full forward and centre half forward are there for a reason so give them a

The best players in this game were "Storky" Reece, ably supported by Norrie Lewis in the ruck.

Brophy was an inspira-tion to his team and the centre-line of Stewart, Culnane (get a kick) and Edwards were rarely beaten.

The forwards improved in the second half but still leave a lot to be desired.

There is plenty of talent there, so what about it next week, ah feilas!

Aussie Rules 1sts UNI. THRASHES ACTON

Playing more purposeful football all day, University caused the upset of the season by thrashing Acton on Manuka Oval on Sunday, July 28.

University won all that we are capable of playing for only the second time this : season.

University's score should have been much bigger but the kicking for goal was shocking.

University the opened scoring with a good goal from Jimmy Bradshaw, but trailed at the end of the first quarter.

But from this point it was all University backing up, waiting for the crumbs from the pack and using handball intelligently.

Uni. kept up their continuous attack.

Rod Gilholme at centre half back was unbeatable as was Andrew Green at full back who was on top the whole day.

It is wrong though to pick out any outstanding players for it was a first class team performance with every player doing his job well.

But for once not even to Andrew Hay for not becoming involved) could stop the University team.

Final scores were: A.N.U.

McLeod and Bradshaw.

Best players: Price, Gilto become affiliate members vantages of having one ten- tion next year with expand- holme, Green, Meagher, Larkin, Pescott and Ritchie.

Bungendore inspires new game of the Sports Union and will

At a recent Sports Union meeting the A.N.U. Tennis Club, which had not previously been affiliated to Sports Union, was amalgamated A.N.U. Sports Union Tennis Club.

Member of the original A.N.U. Tennis Club who are not eligible to become mem-tennis courts only.

This brings to the end when the A.N.U. Tennis Club ing tennis. clashed with the A.N.U. Sports Union Tennis Club on at the beginning of the year.

be able to use the A.N.U. nis club within the univer- ed membership, sity and hopes that with the that undergraduates lengthy negotiations started think more seriously of play- fights (full credit must go

formation of this new club

The provision of four new the formation of the latter tennis courts at the eastern end of university oval has improved the tennis facilities Goalkickers for A.N.U.: Rhonda Meech, president within the university and the Larkin 5, Gelbart 2, Hay, of the A.N.U. Sports Union tennis club should prove a bers will now be permitted Club has stressed the ad- force in the local competi-

http://nla.gov.au/nla.news-page16008090